Kt, of Leicester; who served under
King EDWARD I, 1272—1307.

INTRODUCTION.

Brief mention of the Hamlins is found in various genealogical and historical works, showing them to be widely distributed over this country. It is believed that no extensive work of the family history, except by the writer, has ever been previously published. The origin of the race is hidden in the mists of the centuries past, where dim glimpses of the name occurs, indicating them to be of Germanic origin; residing on the river Hamel in lower Saxony, where the ancient town of Hamlin is situated, at the confluence of the river Hamel with the Weiser. The name Hamelin is still common in France, from whence some have emigrated to this country and to Quebec, Canada; where they have been numerous. Several of the name, men of renown, went in the army of William the Conquoror, to England, 1066; where the name has since been a common one. It was anciently spelled Hameline, later Hamlyn, which is still retained by some; but like most old English names, the spelling has not been uniform; and is found in various forms, viz: Hamlin, Hamlen, Hamline, Hamlyn, Hamblin, Hamblen, and perhaps other forms. The most approved Anglicized form of the name is Hamlin.

Research shows that several of the name came early to this country from England; a few, probably of English stock, from Ireland and Scotland; and some from France.

For the information of those who may desire to make research for other branches of the family, the records of some of the early Hamlin settlers are here given.

JAMES HAMLIN, came from London, England, and settled in Barnstable, Mass., 1639; wife, Anne. This is by far the most numerous branch of the Hamlins in America; a genealogy of which was published by the writer, 1894; bringing down the descendants to the fifth generation in America, about the period of the American revolution. A new and more complete work is in preparation, showing the names of nearly 20,000 descendants, WILLIAM HAMBLEN, was in Boston, Mass., about 1650; wife, Mary.

Children;

WILLIAM	b.	Oct. 11, 1666.
MARY,	"	Jan. 17, 1667.
NATHANIEL,	"	Mar, 27, 1671.

It is supposed the son, Nathaniel,[2] m. Mary Pierce, of Suffield, Mass., now Conn. and purchased lands there, 1721. They made a deed about 1732, to Nathaniel Stillman and Gershom Nott, of all their lands from their great grandfather, Richard Pearce, at the places known by the names of Muscougus, New Harbor, and Damariscotta or elsewhere, east of the County of York, Maine. They had seven children, and numerous descendants, widely distributed over the country.

EZEKIEL HAMLIN, was in Boston, 1654; and m. there by Gov. Bellingham, June 8, 1654, Elizabeth, dau. of William Drake, Esq. of Yardbury parish, Colyton, Eng., and his wife, Margaret, dau. and heiress of William Westofer, of Colyton. He served in Capt. Joshua Shattow's company, of Boston. which was stationed at Black Point, Cape Elizabeth, Maine, 1675-6; was in garrison there, July 24, 1676, and had credit for service from Feb. 19, 1675. He also served in Capt. Samuel Mosley's Company, of Boston, in the Narragansett war, Aug. 24, 1676. He was called a mariner; and was taxed in Boston, 1674, 1687-8; and probably had a second wife, Agnes.

Ch. probably b. Boston:

BENJAMIN,	Nov.	26,	1665.
HANNAH,	Nov.	2,	1667.
MERCY,	Sept.	5,	1669.

The family has never been traced to the knowledge of the writer. In a deed from Ezekiel Cooly and wife, Abigail, of Newport, R. I. dated Apr. 25, 1719, for £40 they sold to Jonathan Lawton, all right, title and interest in the Mansion house of Ezekiel Hamlin,, late of Boston, situated on Black Horse Lane; and reference is made to the will of Ezekiel Hamlin, dated July 25, 1690. Thomas Richardson and wife Mary, also released the same property, at the same date.

RICHARD HAMBLEN, was in Boston, 1665; and had a family.

THOMAS HAMBLEN, had wife, Esther; he was taxed in Boston, 1687-8, and 1691. Thomas Harris of Boston, gave a bond to insure Thomas Hamblen from being an expense to the town; they had a son, James, b. Feb. 6, 1688.

CLEMENT HAMLIN. was in Boston, a soldier in Turner's Co., Feb. 1676.

JOSEPH HAMLIN, of New Brittanie, m. Boston, Dec. 27, 1714, Mary Macomb.

Mrs. ANN HAMBLIN, was written to at Stow, Mass. Feb. 12. 1722, by the Pastor of Old South Church, Boston, and Richard Hamlin was written to there by the same party, Aug. 25, 1725. Mary and George, children of Ann Hamling, were baptized Christ Church, Boston. Aug. 19, 1744.

GEORGE HAMBLEN, of Boston, m. King's Chapel, Aug. 2, 1737, Jane Martin.
Ch. b. Boston:

ANNE,	July	25;	1744.

SAMUEL HAMBLIN, of the Island of Nevis, (one of the Leeward Islands, Lesser Antilles,) appointed Richard Harris, of Boston, his attorney to receive his share of the French prize, The Thomas Joseph, taken by Capt. Richard Glover, Nov. 28, 1694.

ELIZABETH HAMBLEN, m. Boston, by Rev. Samuel Myles, Apr. 1, 1726, Thomas Forelong.

THOMAS HAMLEN, b. Feb. 1, 1729; ancestors and nativity unknown; m. 1st, Sarah Hills; m. 2nd, about 1786, Sarah Butler, b. Oct. 30, 1763; who d. Nov. 1, 1833. It is traditional that he came from New England. The first known of him he resided at Bloomsbury Mountain, Hunterdon, Co. N. J.; from whence he removed to Greenwich township, Warren Co. N. J.; he d. Dec. 28, 1810.

Ch. by 1st wife:

LORENA,	July 17, 1795;	" Jacob Minegar.
A child.
WILLIAM,	about 1802.	" Elizabeth Hunt and Lana Medick.

A brother of Thomas Hamlen last named, perhaps John, resided in Sussex and Hunterdon counties, N. J. It is traditional that he came from England; but the writer believes his descendants, who are numerous, have mistaken the place from whence he came; and that he was a native of New England. He had two wives. The Hamlins of Audubon county, Iowa, descend from this man.

Ch. by 1st wife:

NATHANIEL,	b. Feb. 5, 1757, Sussex Co. N. J.; m. and res. Columbus, O.
JOHN,	" July 2, 1759, Hunterdon Co. N. J.; m. Rosannah Lard.
RICHARD,	" in N. J.; removed to another state, perhaps Vermont.

By 2nd wife:

JAMES,	b. in N. J.; m. and res. Lewis Co. Ky.

DANIEL HAMBLEN, and wife came from England. It is claimed by some that he first settled in North Carolina; from whence they removed and settled in Prince George Co. Va. His descendants are quite numerous in the South, and some served in the Confederate army.

Children:

JOHN,	settled in East Tenn.
HENRY,	" " Lee Co. Va.

DANIEL, b. Oct. 15, 1752; m. Sarah Davidson and Rosamond Kenner.
POLLY, m.——Powell, and——Burton.
A daughter; m.——Chandler.

STEPHEN HAMLIN, with brothers William and Charles, came from France as early as 1750. William settled in New England, according to tradition; but no trace of him has been discovered by the writer. Charles went towards Mexico, and soon died there. Stephen settled in or near Sussex, Co. Va.; m. Mrs. Sally Cryer, neé Poythness. He died in Virginia; his daughters m. Nicholas Jarret, and ——Hargrave; his sons settled in Stark Co. Ohio, 1807.

Children:
SUSANNAH,
WILLIAM; m. Elizabeth——
CHARLES, m. Martha Moore.
JOHN, b. about 1761; m. Elizabeth Johnson.
Descendants numerous.

CHARLES HAMBLEN, b. England. Settled in Lunenburg Co., Va. on the farm called "Flat Rock."

Children:
JOHN,
THOMAS, b. about 1755; m. Jane Ross and Mary Steinback.
MARY; m. William Boswell.
LUCY; " ——Robinson.
TABITHA; " ——Botts,
The descendants are quite numerous.

WILLIAM HAMLIN, brother of Charles, came together direct from Englandand settled near Church Road, Dinwiddie Co. Va. Descendants not traced.

A MR. HAMLIN came from England and settled in Giles Co., Va., and had sons Thomas, Stephen, Coleman and Edward. His grandson, Dr. Cally Hamlin, an old man, resided in Clinton, Mo., a few years since.

WOOD HAMLIN came from England with brothers Frank and Henry, and settled at Church Road, Dinwiddie Co., Va. They served in the American army in the revolution. Frank Hamlin died soon after the war, unmarried. Wood Hamlin removed to North Carolina, married there, and has numerous descendants.

HENRY HAMLIN, (bro. of Wood.) m. Elizabeth Browne and resided on the place called "Namazine," at Church Road, Va.; where his grandson, Colonel Thomas B. Hamlin, resided in recent times.

Children:
NANCY; m.——— Mayo.
JOHN; m.——— Hannah Browne.
WILLIAM B; m. Martha Goode and Miss. Bunnell.

RICHARD and JOHN HAMLYN were in Prince George Co., Va.; 1702-4, the latter was a member of the house of Burgesses.

In THE HAMLIN FAMILY, 1894, the writer gave some curious information relative to the Hamlins in France and England, to which the reader is referred; other facts and records have since been discovered which are here given:

Sr. Rafe Board, Kt., married Isabel, da. to Sr. James Hamlyn, Kt. (Visitation of Essex, 1558.)

Jan. 6, 1574, Christening of Anne Hamlyn, dau. of John, born the 2d day. (Register of Christenings, etc. Parish of St. Peters, Cornhill.)

Robert Hamlyn, the last Abbot of Athelny, with eight Monks surrendered the Monastery to King Henry VIII, Feb. 8, 1539; the Abbot receiving a yearly pension of £50, and the Prebend of Song-Sutton, by way of gratuity.

When Alfred the Great had been persecuted by his enemies for nine years he fled to the Isle of Athelnegy and found refuge in the cottage or hut of St. Athelwine.

To commemorate his deliverance he built the Abbey of Athelney and dedicated it to St. Saviour and St. Peter.

It was over this Abbey that Robert Hamlyn was the last Abbott. (Collingson's Hist. Somerset, Eng.)

FRANCIS XAVIER HAMELIN, aged 20. Patriot. Was exécuted at Montreal, Canada, Jan. 18, 1829, during the Canadian Rebellion.

Letter from Wait Winthrop, Boston, April 18, 1698, to Fitz John Winthrop, New London, Ct.,: "I have shipt all your things by Mr. Hamblin, who I think sailed the last night or this morning."

Another letter between same persons Nov. 13, 1699: "If Mr. Hamblin be not gon this morning, or any other vessel be here, I shall goe immediately and see for nayles and send."

From Diary of Samuel Sewall, Boston, Jan. 12, 1691–2:

This night —— Hamlen, formerly Plats, before that Crabtree, a middle aged woman, through some displeasure at her son, whom she beat, sat not down to supper with her husband and a stranger at table. When they had done she took a piece of grisly meat of a shoulder of mutton into her mouth, which got into the top of the Larynx, and stopt it fast, so she was presently choak'd. Tho Pemberton and others found it so when they opened her throat. She gave a stamp with her foot and put her finger in her mouth, but Pemberton * * * home and died immediately.

The writer has not discovered any positive proof of relationship between James Hamlin, of Barnstable, Mass., and Capt. Giles Hamlin, of Middletown, Ct.; but there are various traditions that they were related. In a former work on The Hamlin Family, the opinions of Vice Prest. Hamlin and his brother on the subject were given. It has been stated that James and Giles Hamlin were brothers; that Giles was the son, also that he was the nephew of James Hamlin. It is stated in the history of Charlestown, N. H,: "James and and John Hamlin, brothers, came to America in 1622. A son of James,—Giles Hamlin,—settled in Middletown, Ct. 1650," &c., but no proof of the facts is offered. The writer has seen no other account of the John Hamlin mentioned. James Hamlin came to Barnstable, Mass., in the spring of 1639, from London, Eng.; but had no son Giles. Mr. David Hamblen, of Boston, the first writer on the Hamlin family history, supposed these men were brothers; but had no proof of it.

Hon. Edward Stowe Hamlin, of Elyria, Ohio, wrote from Middletown, Ct., July 5, 1847, to Hon. R. R. Hinman, author of the "Puritan settlers of Conn." that Mrs. Hubbard, of Middletown, said: that her grandfather, Hon. Jabez Hamlin (who was born 1709 and died 1791,) was frequently visited by relatives from Sharon, Ct. He no doubt refered to Mrs. Abigail Hubbard, who was born 1774 and died 1864; who was in position to have known of the facts. This Jabez Hamlin was the grandson of Capt. Giles Hamlin of Middletown. It is a fact that Dea. Ebenezer Hamlin, who was grandson of James Hamlin of Barnstable, settled in Sharon, Ct. about 1742; his descendents, and others of the family were numerous at Sharon in the time of Jabez Hamlin. The evidence on the subject renders it highly probable that these men were related; perhaps brothers or cousins. It seems quite natural and not improbable, that the early Hamlin settlers of Mass. and Conn. were kindred.

In the compilation of the genealogy of Capt. Giles Hamlin, every available source of information has been consulted for records and facts, and the results carefully collated and recorded. It would be impossible to give exact credit for the information thus obtained: for hardly a sketch in the book came from a single source of information; but we have endeavored to give credit in the body of the work to those who assisted in its compilation. The research for material for the book covers a period of eight years, its preparation has been hours taken from a busy professional life, under many disadvantages; principally distance from libraries of historical and genealogical works, and from the places where the records are to be found.

We desire to express heartfelt thanks to the many friends found, who have assisted in making this book.

While most of the kindred have been uniformly kind and corteous in furnishing family records; a few have remained silent, and failed to respond to requests for information, which would have added to the completion of the records. It is lamentable that some people have a morbid sensitiveness about the publication of ordinary vital statistics; and thus depriving others of a knowledge of their kindred. The writer is keenly alive to the fact that some of the sketches of individuals fall short and fail to do justice on the subject; which is solely due to the fact that proper information was not at his command.

This work is addressed to the descendants of Capt. Giles Hamlin, rather than to the general public; and their appreciation of its merits will be most highly prized. It is intended for a family history, in concise form, not a genealogy merely; to restore the lost links of relationship and to make the descendents and kindred again acquainted, one with the other, and to tell the people of today about their ancestors; who they were, where they lived, and what they did; their manners, customs, etc.

It has been an unjust fashion and a mistake to drop from genealogical works, in a large measure, the female lines. The daughters are members of the families as much as the sons; the names adopted by marriage are mere accidents, depriving them of no rights of relationship. We trust that the kindred will be pleased to learn of their female relatives, and proud of their marriage alliances.

To the ladies of this family we owe a debt of gratitude, for assistance and for records kindly bestowed.

An important feature of the work is the collateral pedigrees contained in the foot notes; containing valuable records for those in search of such information.

No one better than the writer knows, that it is impossible in works like this to avoid some errors; and mistakes have undoubtedly found their way into this compilation, for which we crave indulgence. Such books can never be completed, owing to the fact that births, marriages and deaths, the principal events among mankind are daily occurrences.

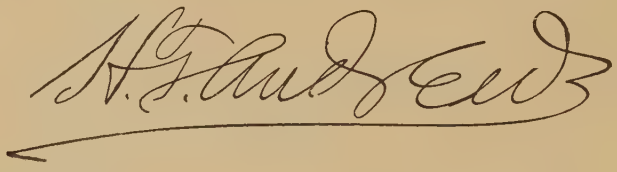
Our work with this branch of the family, for the present is done; and the result offered to the consideration of the kindred.

If it shall accomplish the design of the author, in restoring to some extent, the lost and forgotten relationships; and the kindred shall experience the same pleasure in perusing these pages, that we have in writing them, our labor will be amply repaid.

Exira, Iowa, 1900.



EXPLANATIONS

The Genealogy will be found arranged by generations, by families, in chronological order, as nearly as practicable. The name of the head of a family is given in full, the Christian names only, of the children of a family are given to avoid repetition of the surnames. The names of all individuals are consecutively numbered, and some names appear, first as a child, second as the head of a family; in such cases, where the name appears the second time, as head of the family, the number first given is repeated in brackets.

The names of the children, whose histories are continued in the next generation, are marked thus: *

To find the line of descent, take any name and trace the ancestors backwards by the small numbers attached to their respective names, following the name of the head of a family, where the line of ancestors is given, with the number of each generation expressed in small figures, thus: HENRY FRANKLIN ANDREWS,[8] Martha Hamblen,[7] Ichabod,[6] Gershom,[5 4] Ebenezer,[3] John,[2] James[1].

FIRST GENERATION.

1. CAPTAIN GILES HAMLIN,[1] We learn from the inscription on his tombstone that he was b. in England about 1622; but the place of his nativity has not been discovered. He m. 1655, Hester, dau. of John Crow,* of Hartford, Ct., b. about 1628, probably in England. His epitaph tells us that he was "near fifty years crossing the ocean wide," which means that he was a mariner for that period of time. One anthority states that he arrived in America before 1651, and resided in Hartford, Ct., before settling in Middletown. Another author says, that he came direct to Middletown. The writer has found no direct proof of the time of his arrival in America, or how he came here. He settled in Middletown, Ct. as early as 1654, and resided there the remainder of his life.† Both members of the first church established there,

* Note 1. John Crow, b. 1606; he probably married first in England; the name of his first wife has not been discovered; she was the mother of his four or five oldest children, who were also probably b. England. He afterwards m. Elizabeth, only known child of Elder William Goodwin, of Hartford, Connecticut. He came to America 1634; and was one of those who went through the Wilderness with Rev. Thomas Hooker, 1636; and settled Hartford. His name is on the monument in the Hartford cemetery, erected in memory of the first settlers there. He was a wealthy man, associated in business with his father-in-law, Elder Goodwin, Hartford; and was one of the founders and settlers of Hadley, Mass., 1659. He returned to Hartford, 1678, and d. Jan. 18, 1686. His sons were dissipated and squandered their property. His daughters married some of the ablest men in the Colony.

Children:

HESTER, b. 1628, England; m. GILES HAMLIN.
John, merchant, Fairfield, Connecticut; d. 1667, unm.
Samuel,
Nathaniel, of Hartford; d. July 2, 1695.
Daniel, of Hartford; d. Aug 12, 1695.
Sarah, b. Mar. 1, 1646-7; m. Daniel White, of Hatfield, Mass.
Hannah, b. July 13, 1649; m. Thomas Dickinson, of Wethersfield, Ct.
Elizabeth, b. about 1650; m. William Warren and Phineas Wilson, the latter a wealthy merchant from Dublin, Ireland. She kept up the business after his death and became an extensive banker.
Mehitable, b. about 1652; m. Col. Samuel Partridge, of Hatfield, Mass.
Mary, b. 1654; m. Noah Coleman and Peter Montague, of Hadley, Mass.
Ruth, b. 1656; M. William Gaylord and John Haley, both of Hadley.

* Note 2.

ELDER WILLIAM GOODWIN. Came from Essex, Eng.; he sailed from London, June 22, 1632; arrived in Boston September following; and soon settled at Newton, now Cambridge, Mass. His residence was on what is now Harvard street, between Holyoke and Linden, facing the college grounds. He was one of the company which removed and settled Hartford, Connecticut, 1636; where he was a large land holder. In 1659, with John Crow, and others from Hartford, Wethersfield and Windsor., they settled Hadley, Mass. Jan. 1669-70, his wife, Susanna joined him in a deed of land in Hadley; the first mention of his wife in America. It is supposed she was a second wife; and it is suggested, was the widow of his friend and pastor, the Rev Thomas Hooker. He died Farmington, Ct., Mar. 11, 1673. She May 17, 1676. His only known child was Elizabeth, who m. John Crow. At his death his large estate fell into the hands of his son-in-law, Mr. John Crow, himself a man of great wealth.

† Note 3.

A settlement was contemplated in Mattabeseck, now Middletown, Ct. by the General Court October, 1646; and on Oct. 30, appointed Mr. Phelps to join a committee (previously appointed) for the planting of Mattabeseck. On Mar. 20, 1649-50, Samuel Smith, Senior, of Wethersfield, Ct. was added to the committee. The actual settlement is understood to have been begun in 1650. The first pages of the town records are gone, and others nearly obliterated.

Just how many and who were the first settlers is not precisely known; few came at first.

Sept. 4, 1668; to which he was admitted Nov. 15; and she Dec. 30, of the same year. He was a puritan, a man of good sense, and soon gained a high standing for probity and ability; and has been justly styled one of the pillars of the Colony in its early settlement. He was long engaged in foreign commerce, partly on his own account, partly with John Pynchon, of Springfield, son of the founder of that town; with his brother-in-law, John Crow, Jr., of Fairfield, and with Elder William Goodwin, of Hartford, and afterwards of Farmington, Ct. He was long honored with public offices, and his descendants, as we shall see, retained a remarkable degree of influence in public affairs. even down to the present time. His home lot, on the east side of Main street, extended from about the north side of Bunce's store; nearly if not quite, to Court street. He purchased a house and ten acre lot on the south west corner of Main and Washington streets, 1679; which was the family homestead for four generations. He commanded The Desire, 1665: and The John and James, 1679. He was Rate Maker, Grand Levy-man, Townsman, and served the town on various committees. He gave a drum to the town and Train-band, 1666.

He is frequently mentioned in various correspondence of those times, found in the records of the Massachusetts Historical Society.

In a letter from Nathaniel Sylvester, dated Shelter Island, Mar. 15, 1654, to John Winthrop, Esq. in Pequit, it is written: "I make bould to troble y^e^ with a letter in w^ch^ was inclosed one for my brother, conserning the sawed pipe staves w^ch^ s^d^ letter my desire was, might be sent to Giles Hamlin, he then layinge at y^e^ rivers mouth."

In another letter between the same persons, dated Rhode Island, July 27, 1654: "Sr: In that to my brother I have advised him about some pipe staves

The General Court on Sept. 11, 1651, "Ordered that Mattabeseck should be a town." It was represented in the General Court in the autumn of 1652. In November, 1653 it was ordered that it be called Middletown. The number of taxable persons in 1654 were thirty one. The earliest remaining entry on the town record is Feb. 2, 1652, a vote for a meeting-house.

John Hall, William Cornwell, William Smith, Samuel Stocking, Robert Webster and Thomas Wetmore were settlers in 1652; some of them may have been there from the beginning.

In the early part of 1654, Thomas Allen, Andrew Warner, Nathaniel Bacon, William Markum, Nathaniel Brown, George Graves, William and Daniel Harris, Thomas Miller and John Martin were settlers there; and may have been there as early as 1652.

John Savage and Samuel Stow were early settlers With few exceptions the settlers were English.

A list of the householders and proprietors of 1670 gives the following names:

Allen Obadiah	Cornwall Samuel	Hubbard Thomas	Stow John
Allen Thomas	Durant Ceorge	Hurlbut John	Stow Samuel
Bacon Nathaniel	Egglestone Samuel	Johnson Isaac	Stow Thomas
Briggs William	Hall John	Kirby John	Tappin James

Cornwall John	Hubbard Joseph	Stocking Samuel	Wilcox John

To these may be added William Bloomfield and Matthias Treat, 1652; Joseph Smith and John Cochran, 1655, and Thomas Hopewell, 1658.

The descendants of many of these early settlers, as will further appear in this work, have variously intermarried with those of Capt. Giles Hamlin.

and I have advised him that if possible ye would send a sample per Giles Hamlin, wch if not by him will be by via Boston."

In another letter between same persons, dated Shelter Island, Apr. 7, 1655, it is said: "I wonder much Mr. Clark did not returne my letter, in course he received it after Mr. Hamlin,s setting sayle.

In a letter from Giles Sylvester, dated Barbadoes, this 29th of ye 3mo 1658, to John Winthrop Jr., occurs the following: "It is feared Giles Hamlin, hath either mist the Island or els to be foundert in the sea."

Giles Hamlin, was bearer of letters from Richard Leader, Barbadoes, to John Winthrop, Esq. in New England, dated Jan. 16, 1659-60, and Aug. 14, 1660, in which he is mentioned as Mr. Giles Hamblett, Mr. Giles Hamlet, and Mr. Hamblin.

In a letter from John Tinker to Gov. John Winthrop at Hartford, 1660, it is stated: "I have let Mr. Hamlin have 2 barells of beefe."

In a letter from John Winthrop, Hartford, to Daniel Searle, Gov. of Barbadoes, May 22, 1660, is the following statement: "I recd yours of 18th of Jan. by Mr, Giles Hamblin, together with a chest of that sulphurous mineral therein mentioned whereof I hoped to have made some triall before Mr. Hamlin's return." He also mentions that "Mr. Hamblin has taken a full fraught here in the river."

In a letter from John Winthrop Jr. to Samuel Winthrop, May 24, 1660. "Mr, Hamblin is mentioned. He is mentioned in a letter from Samuel Winthrop, dated St. Stephen's, Feb. 13, 1660, to Gov. John Winthrop, Conn.; which was received Apr. 8, 1660.

In the lists of emigrants from Great Britian to America, 1600 to 1700, appears the following:

p. JOHN ALLEN, register.

(Also, other lands were described in a foot note.)

For many years his name appears in the records of the proceedings of the General Assembly of Conn. Colony. The first entry there concerning him is as follows: " At a General Assembly held at Hartford, May 12, 1664, * * * John Norton, John Jud, Sam[ll] Buell, Timothy Phelps, Tho: Jud, Mr. HAMLIN, Sam[ll] Olcott; these were made free in Court." The act of becoming a freeman at that time conferred upon the recipient the right of citizenship and to vote, &c.

At the same Court: " Mr. HAMLIN and John Hall are desired and apointed to assist in laying out the extent of twelve miles from Sea Brook northward into y[e] country; and take a spetial account how far it extends: and likewise to see and take account how far it may be from the end of that to Thirty-Miles Island."

October, 1667: It was ordered: " Mr. HAMLIN to attend the same service in administering the oath of freedome to those of Midleton."

Also, " This Court grants Mr. HAMLIN liberty to retale wine and liq'[rs] to his neighbors at Midleton."

May, 1668: " This Court doth desire and appoynt Mr. William Wadsworth, Mr. HAMLINE, Ensighn White, Bartholome Barnard, or any three of them to labor with Saybrooke plantation and Thirty-Mile Island to gayne a complyance between them and to settle their bounds to mutuall sattisfaction between this and October Court."

" This Court doth nominate and appoynt the Secretary, Mr. Thomas Stanton, Mr. GILES HAMLIN, & Mr. Rob[t] Chapman, a committee in behalfe of this Courte to hear and determine any difference wherein the Indians are concerned either among themselves, or between any English and them."

October, 1669: " This Court grants Mrs. HAMLIN that the custome of a hogshead of liq'rs be abated her."

At a session of the General Court held at Hartford, by the Gouernors speciall order, August 7, 1673. * * * "Whereas there is at present a great appearance of danger to our Colony by the approach of the Dutch, for our own safety and defense till the Gen^ll Court in October next; it is now ordered by this Court, that the Committee hereafter named, viz: The Gouernor, Deputy Gouernor and Assistants, Capt. Benj. Newbury, Mr. GILES HAMLIN, Mr. William Wadsworth, Capt. William Curtice, L'nt William Fowler, L'nt Tho. Munson, are here empowered to act as the Grand Committee of this colony in Establishing and Commissioning of military officers, in pressing of men, horses, ships, barques or other vessels, arms, amunition, provision, carriages, or whatever they judg needful for o^r (our) defense; and to manage, order and dispose of the malitia of the colony in the best way and manner they can for o^r (our) defense and safety."

Oct. 13, 1687: "This Court grants Mr. GILES HAMLIN three hundred acres of land for a farme; Provided, he take it up where it may not prejudice any former grant to any person or plantation."

November, 1687: "His Excellency in Council was pleased to nominate and appoint the persons hereafter named to be justices of the peace and sheriffs for the respective counties, following: for whom commissions are ordered to be prepared accordingly, viz: For the County of Hartford, GILES HAMLIN."

He was deputy from Middletown to the General Assembly at twenty-three sessions from 1666 to 1684; an office similar to representative in the legislature. He was assistant or member of the upper house of the General Assembly, from 1685 until his death.

The General Court was unable to meet in August 1689, by reason of a prevalent epidemic sickness. On August 9, of that year, Secretary Allen wrote to Gov. Bradstreet, of Mass.: "It is a very sickly time in most of our plantations; in some near two-thirds of our people are confined to their beds." * * *

Sept. 4, he wrote again: "The sickness is indeed very sore in most of our towns; Mr. HAMLIN, one of our Assistants was buried last Monday."

October, 1695: "Mr. John Bowchers and Mr. Leffingwell, are to lay out to Mr. GILES HAMLIN, and to Mr. Nathaniel Collins, their grants of land according to grants."

May, 1702; "Mr. Nathaniel Sherman, of Stratford, and Sergt. John Mitchel, of Woodbury, are appointed by this Assembly to be a committee to lay out a grant of land formerly granted to Mr. GILES HAMLIN, Esq. by this Court."

May, 1703: "Whereas, the Gen^ll Court holden at Hartford, October the 13, 1687, did grant to Mr. GILES HAMLIN, three hundred acres of land to be taken up where it might not prejudice any former grant to any person or plantation. * * * This Court appoints Mr. Caleb Stanley, the Countie Surveyor, Mr. William Pitkin, and William Cornwell, Sen^r, of Middletown, to lay out the aforesaid tracts of land for the persons concerned, according to the limitations expressed."

May, 1706; "Whereas, the Generall Court of this Colonie at their sessions Octob^r the 13th, 1687, granted to GILES HAMLIN, Esq^r, since deceased, three hundred acres of land for a farme, provided he should take in up where it might not prejudice any former grant to any person or plantation: and whereas, John Hamlin, Esq. and William Hamlin, sonns of the said Giles Hamlin, have bargained and sold the said grant of 300 acres of land to John Allin of or belonging to a farme nigh to the town Woodstock, and the said John Allin hath pitched upon and made choice of a certain parcell of land of 300 acres, lying at or near a place called Pattoquottuck, distant about sixe or seven miles from Woodstock aforesaid. This Court doth allow and approve the said pitch and choice made by said Allin of the said 300 acres of land for ye said grant; provided, it prejudice no former grant as aforesaid, and do order and appoint Mr. Caleb Stanley to survey and lay out the said 300 acres of land for said Allin; and to make return thereof to this Court in October, next."

October, 1706; A return of the survey of said grant was made to the General Court by the surveyor named.

He accumulated a fortune for the times. In a list of property owners in Middletown dated Mar. 22, 1670, he is valued at £ 134, the sixth largest in the list.

WILL OF GILES HAMLIN.

August 30th, 1689. I, Giles Hamlin, of Middletown, in the County of Hartford, and Colony of Connecticut, being very weak in body, but through God's goodness well composed in mind and memory, and being by present sickness put in mind of my mortallity, and not knowing the day of my Death, do esteem it my Duty to set my House in Order before my Earthly Tabernacle be dissolved. I do therefore make, constitute and ordain this my last Will and Testament, in manner and form following, viz, — First, I resign up my soul to God that gave it when he shall please to call for it, my Body to the Earth, to a decent Burial, in hopes of a joyful meeting at the resurrection of the Just through Christ Jesus my blessed Redeemer, through whose merits alone I hope to be saved, And as to that portion of Outward Estate, which God hath graciously given me, I do Will and Dispose of, in manner following: —

To my son, John Hamlin, all the Land he now possesseth, viz:- The Home lot I bought of Abraham Smith, and one parcel of Meadow in the long meadows which was formerly Henry Coles, Also I give to my son John, one half my Lot at Gooses Delight, one half my Lot by Lucas's, one half my two Wood Lots near the Town, my Division of Land near Capt Harris's, half my out Division Land upon the Straight Hills, half my half mile Lot, half the swamp I bought of Hopewell, and half of my upland and pond lying on the East side the Great river, as also Thirty Pounds in Money which I promised to lay out with him in part of a Vessel, as also one Silver Platter, one great Silver Spoon, as also one Cow, and one Breeding Mare, as also one Silver Hatt band, the biggest of the two, all this I give to him and his Heirs forever,

To my son, William Hamlin, I give my House and Homestead with all the Buildings upon it, also my Land on the West side the Highway, lying between Richard Halls and John Hamlin's as also my Lot next to Edward Turner's, which I bought of Thomas Miller, Also my Meadow and Swamp in the Long Meadow, and also that parcell of Meadow in the South side the River, and also my wet Meadow, and my out Division of Land in the Boggy Meadow quarter, half of my lot at Gooses Delight, half my lot by Lucas's, half my two Wood Lots near Town, half my Division upon the Straight Hills, half my half mile lot, half my Swamp I bought of Hopewell, half my upland and Pond lying on the East side the great River, as also one Silver Spoon and Silver Tumbler, as also one Silver Hatt band, All this I give to him and his heirs forever.

To my Sonns Giles and Richard I give all my Lands at Hartford, together with my Interest in the Mills, they paying to their Mother Fourteen Pounds pr year in current pay of the Country during the term of her natural life, as also to Giles two Silver Spoons, one gilt, the other one of the great ones and a Silver wine Cup. To Richard, one Silver Spoon and Silver Dram Cup. All this I give to them and their heirs forever.

To my loving wife, Esther Hamlin, I give what room in my now Dwelling House with convenient Cellerage for her use, as She Shall choose; with the use of what moveables She Shall see Cause to make use of, also the improvement of what stock she shall apprehend may be for her advantage during the time of her widowhood.

To my daughter Mary I give One Hundred Pounds in Money, and a Portion of Household Stuff as my Daughter Mehitable hath had, Also two Cows, as also a Silver Spoon, and Silver plate, and also my Servant Joan, in case she shall need her, and my wife can Spare her. All this I give to her and her Heirs forever.

To my Daughter Mabel (Mehitable?) I give Fifty Pounds in Money besides what she hath had, and one Silver Spoon, as also one Silver Porringer, and Goblet between Mary & Mabel as they shall agree, this I give to Her and her Heirs forever.

To Samuel Hooker I give the Cow that he had of me.

To young John Hamlin and young Samuel Hooker I give to each of them one of the small Silver Spoons. And after my just Debts being discharged and my Legacies paid, my Will is that the remainder of my Estate be equally divided between my sons, further it is my will that if any of my Children Die before they come to inherit their Portion, it shall be equally divided amongst the survivors, and my Will is that my Wearing Apparel be equally divided among my Sons. Further, my will is that my Loving Wife, Esther, and my Son, John Hamlin, be joint Executors of this my last Will and Testament, and I do request my much Hon'd. Friend, Col. John Allen, of Hartford, and Lieut. Nathaniel White, of Middletown, to be Overseers, and to assist in the performance of this my last Will and Testament, and that for their pains be allowed five pounds apeice, and to my Grandsons John and Giles Southmayd I give each of them an ewe Sheep and to my Grandsons John Hamlin and Samuel Hooker I give each of them an Ewe Sheep.

In witness whereof, I have set to my hand and seal this 30th August 1689.

Nathanl White, Senr.
Noadiah Russell.

Mr. Hamlin did afterward declare in the presence of the Witnesses it was his will that each of his Negro Servants should have an Ewe Sheep. The witnesses added in and by advice of the court to this purpose we do remember that Mr. Hamlin declared once and again that he would have Mrs. Hamlin well and comfortably provided for as long as she lived, he said she would not want for anything, as also she should have the improvement of the Lands till the Children came to Inherit.

His Estate amounted to £3247—18—16.

Oct, 8, 1696: "Also a copie of a letter drawn by Maj^{r} James Fitch and Capt. John Hamlin, was read in Court. and ordered that the contents be sent to the governm^{t} of Massachusetts without any substantiall alteration."

May 13, 1697; "The committee desired and appointed by the Gen^{l} Assembly in October last, viz. Capt. John Hamlin, * * * to meet at Norwich, or Lebanon as soon as they could, and endevour to settle a good composure of a controversie depending in Court between Mr. Willian Brewster (or Owaneco in whose right Mr. Brewster claims certain lands in Lebanon,) and Abimelech, and to make return: appeared in this Court, and it being evident that the parties were not agreed, the plaintiff went forward with his appeal from the judgm^{t} of the Court of Assistants, according to liberty formerly granted to him. The action depending between the said parties is thus entered in the records of this Court: Abimelech, sonne of Joshua and grandson of Vncas Sachem of Mohegin, plaintiff, cont^{r} Mr. Will. Bruister defend^{t}; in an action of the case for your illegall entering upon and improving certain lands being part of a tract of land given to him the said Abimelech by the last will of Joshua his father, at or neer a place called Lebanon, adjoyning or neer a parcel of land given to Capt^{n}. Jno. Mason; joyns to Norwich bounds; to a surrendry of the said land or quitting your said entrie and improvem^{t}; in this action the jury at the Court of Assistance finds as followeth: that is to say; if Joshua^{s} will be legall conveyance and the land in conveyance be within that tract of land mentioned in the said will, then we find for the plaintiff the surrendry of the land in controversie, and Costs of Court; if not, then we find for defend^{t}, Costs of Court: this Court doth find Josia's will to be a legal conveyance; and that the land in Controversie is within the tract of land mentioned in the will: and therefore do find for the plaintiff the surrendry of the land in Controversie, and Costs of Courts; from this judgement this plaintiff now brings his appeal. This Court having considered the pleas and allegations of both parties find for the plaintiff Cost of Court. Costs allowed 2£, 08s, 00d. Costs paid in Court. This Court doth declare that in this action they have not determined the title of the lands in controversie."

The Committee reported Oct, 20, 1697; a final settlement written by *Capt*ⁿ. Jno. Hamlin, and William Pitkin, Esqʳ.

May 13, 1697; "Capⁿ. Samˡˡ. Mason, Capⁿ. Jn°. Hamlin, and Mr. Jn°. Elliot were chosen and appointed by the Assembly to treat with, on behalf of the Assembly, messengers from his Majestᵗᵉˢ Provence of Massachusetts for raising forces against the Common enemy." etc.

Oct. 13, 1698; "Upon the motion of Fitz John Winthrop, Esqʳ., Governʳ etc., and Majʳ Genʳˡˡ Wait Still Winthrop, this Court appoints and impowers Capⁿ. John Hamlin, Mr. William Pitkin, Capᵗⁿ Will Eelye, to be a committee, giving them full power and authoritye to find out and renew the bounds of a tract of land purchased by John Winthrop Esqʳ, late Goveruour of this Colonie, of Alumps, alias Hyemps and Aguntus, Indian Sachems;" etc.

Oct. 13, 1698; "Upon the request of Lieutᵗ Tracie, that this Court would view their pattent of the town of Norwich, and find out the true line or square of their town in a new pattent prepared to be signed; this Court orders that Mr. John Hamlin, Mr. Will Pitkin to view the new pattent drawn, and prepare it for the Governᵒʳ signing."

Oct. 13, 1698, "Colonˡˡ Robert Treat, Deputy Governʳ, Captⁿ Samˡˡ Mason, Captⁿ Danˡˡ Witherell, Captⁿ John Hamlin, the Reverend Mr. Timothye Woodbridge, Mr. Perpoint, Mr. Gurdon Saltonstall, and Mr. Noadiah Russell, were appointed by the General Assembly a Committee to settle the divisions and Controversies between the people of the town of Haddam."

Oct. 13. 1698: " This Court upon the petition of divers inhabitants in the Countie of Hartford, grant libertye for a plantation at or neer the place called Jeremiah's Farme upon the rode to New London, and Captⁿ Danˡˡ Witherell, Captⁿ John Hamlin, Mr. Will Pitkin, Captⁿ John Chester, Mr. Richard Christophers, and Captⁿ Samuel Fosdick, they or the majʳ part of them are by this Court appointed to be a Committee to lay out a township there; beggining at the north bound of Twenty Mile River, and so to extend southward to a river called Deep River, and to extend eastward from the bounds of Haddam seven miles."

Oct, 10, 1700; " Upon the motion of yᵉ Honourable John Winthrop Esqʳ, Governʳ, and Majʳ Generall Wait Still Winthrop, this Assembly does appoint Captⁿ Daniel Wetherell, Captⁿ John Hamlin, Mr. William Pitkin, and Captⁿ William Eelye, or any three of them, to be a Committee; giving them full power and authoritye to find out and renew the bounds of a tract of land purchased by the Honᵇˡᵉ John Winthrop Esqʳ, our late Governʳ of Alumps, alias Hyemps, and Mashaushawitt, Indian Sachems;" etc.

May 8, 1701; "Captⁿ John Hamlin, Captⁿ John Chester, Mr. John Tracie, Mr. John Elliot, and Mr. Jeremiah Osborn, were by this Assembly appointed a Committee, to Consider the letters lately sent from England, and to prepare answers to them."

May 8, 1701; " Capⁿ John Hamlin and Captⁿ Aaron Cook are by this Assembly appointed to return the thanks of this Assembly to the Reverend Mr. Webb for his pains in preaching the Election Sermon, and desire him to grant a Copie that it may be printed."

May 13, 1703: " It is ordered and enacted by the authoritie aforesaid; That the five Assistants in the Counties of Newhaven, Fairfield, with Capt. Danˡˡ Wetherell and Capt. John Hamlin, or any five of them shall keep the Court of Assistants at Newhaven in October next;" etc.

Oct. 1705; " Capt. John Hamlin," and others not to exceed thirty " principal gentlemen" were authorized to engage in obtaining masts and naval stores for the fleet of her majesty "Our Soverign Lady Queen Ann;" etc.

John Ranny of the town of Middleton in his case contra Capt. Jnº Hamlin, and Capt. White of the same town impudently declaring in the presence of both houses, and at the bar in these terms, viz: 'A great many are against me, and the Judges are against me for aught I know;' was thereupon Committed by order of the Governor in the presence of the Assembly."

Dec. 17, 1707; "Capt. Daniel Witherell, John Hamlin, Nathan Gold, Richard Christophers, John Eliot, Esqrˢ Capt. Cyprian Nichols, Capt. Samuel Eels, and Capt. John Levingstone, are by this Assembly ordered and desired, with all convenient speed to wait upon the Honourable Gurdon Saltonstall Esqr, at New London, signifying to him that this General Assembly have chosen him Governour of this, her Majesties Colonie of Connecticut; and, after the tender of all respects in behalf of this Assembly, in their name, to desire that he would please to accept or comply with the great trust by this Assembly reposed in him; and the gentlemen assistants to administer unto him the Goverhour's oath according to form in the law stated;" etc.

May 13, 1708; " The Court having resolved to hear, and accordingly heard the complaint or information of John Ranny of Midletown, against Mr. John Hamlin, and Capt. Nathˡˡ White of Midletown, wherein they are charged by him to have falsified in their evidence given in upon their office oath at a Countie Court held at Hartford, April 8, 1707; do find that the said Capt. John Hamlin, and Capt. Nathˡˡ White are not guiltie of the abovesaid charge, and order the said Rannye to pay them costs. And forasmuch as the said John Ranny hath grossly accused and greatly defamed the abovesaid Capt. John Hamlin and Capt. White; who are persons in Civil authoritie; which greatly aggravates his offense; therefore this Court see cause to sentence him to pay as a fine to the Colonie treasurie, the sum of five pounds; and that he find sureties for his appearance at the next General Court to be holdon at Newhaven, in October next; and for his good behaviour in the mean time, in the sum of One hundred pounds, and stand committed until this sentence be complied with."

WILL OF JOHN HAMLIN.

October the 21st, 1732. I, John Hamlin, of Middletown, in the County of Hartford, and Colony of Connecticut, in New England, being now through God's goodness in reasonable health of body and of a disposing mind and memory, but exercised with a bad sore in my face, and not knowing how Suddenly I may be surprised, have thought it my Duty to Set my house in order while I am in health, before my Earthly Tabernacle be desolved. I do therefore make this my last will and Testament in manner & form following; first, I resign up my Soul to God that gave it when He Shall please to Call for it, and my body to the Earth to a decent burial in hopes of a Joyfull meeting at the resurrection of the Just Through Jesus Christ, my blessed Redeemer, through whose merits alone I hope to be Saved; and as to the portion of Outward Estate, which God hath Graciously given me, I do will and Dispose in manner following:—

Imprimis, with respect to my beloved wife Sarah if She Shall Survive me, and See cause to Dwell under my roof after my decease, my will is that She Shall be Comfortably maintained by my Executor out of My Estate and have the Command of the parlour as it is now furnished So Long as She bears my name, and Shall Continue So to Dwell in my house, and this I Give to her in lieu of her Dowry in Case She Shall Continue to Dwell in my Habitation. But if She Shall See cause to remove to her own Children my will is that She Shall be paid five pounds money the first year and afterwards five pounds annually So Long as She Shall bear my name, or until Seven years be expired after my decease. Also I give her two pair of homemade Sheets made since her being my wife, and two pillow Beers and the Seal Skin Trunk which I gave her, which She now puts her Clothes in, these I give to her and her heirs for Ever in lieu of her Dowry., in Case She Shall remove to her own Children to be performed by my Executor out of my Estate, also I give to my Beloved wife a Guinea which Lyeth in my Secretare which is in Consideration of the great Trouble she hath in my present Sickness and also a Suitable mourning Suit to be provided by my Executor, and the reason why I have given her no more Interest in my Estate is because before our Marriage I preposed to her that I would renoance all property in or use of any Estate belonging to her, but that it Should be wholly to her and her heirs and that She Should also renoance all property in or right to my Estate after my decease, but that it Should be disposed of to my heirs, unto which preposales I Suppose She Consented, and accordingly have preformed them on my part.

Item. I give to my Son, John Hamlin's Children all that is on my book in the page 137 of the Ledger, which amounts to the Sum of three hundred and forty two pounds as may be Seen, it being part of it money I paid for him in the time of his Life, and part of it for the quarter part of the Sloop I gave him that was lost. I mention this that it may be Seen what I have done for him in the time of his Life Lest it should be thought Little what I give his Children now. I also give them now the House and homestead and barn that he died possessed of, which Land I Bought of Isaac Lane, and also the Bogge meadow Lot that he posessed Lying on the South Side of the ferry river by Sanseers point amounting for three acres all this I give to them and their heirs for Ever, In manner and form following; (viz., my will is that my Grandson Giles Hamlin Shall have the house and Barn and homestead, and that my three Grand Daughters, Mehitable, Elizabeth and Mary Shall have Each of them Sixty pounds paid in lieu of their Right in the house and Homestead, and what I dont pay them of the Sixty pounds to Each of them before my decease, or provide for the payment of in this my Last will and Testament, my will is that my Grandson Giles Hamlin Shall pay when he comes of age.

Item. My will is that my grandaughter Mehitable Shall have Fourteen acres of Land which her Husband hath fenced in on my farm at Hopswamp in lieu of her Sixty pounds above mentioned. Secondly, my will is that my Grand Daughter Elizabeth Shall have the Boggy Meadow above mentioned at Twenty pounds and two Heifers, to be delivered to her by my Executor at an appraisement and What She Stands Debter in my book towards her Sixty pounds above mentioned and what is wanting to make up Said Sixty pounds to be paid by her Brother Giles when he comes of age. Thirdly, my will is that my Granddaughter Mary Shall have an Equal Half Share with my Four Children, Esther, Mary, Sibbil and Jabez, in the Division of my movable Estate and what that wants to make up her Sixty pounds to be paid by her Brother Giles when he comes of age.

I further do give unto my said Grandson Giles Hamlin one hundred & Fifty acres of Land out of my great Lot at Hop-Swamp to Lye on the West Side of Said Lot, also I give him the Remaining part of my Lot by James Brown's after my Son Jabez hath measured to him what I gave him a Deed of, but if my Sd. Grandson Shall die before he comes to inherit the Homestead House and barn only Shall go to my Son John Hamlin's Children and his part of the great Lot Shall be divided one third to my Son Jabez, and the other two thirds to be Equally Divided between all the Rest of my Children and my Son John's Children, all these I give to them as above and to their heirs for Ever.

Item. I give to my Son Jabez my house I now Dwell in and homestead and all the building and fences upon it, and my wharf and wharf house at the river Side with the ground they Stand on, which was given me by this Town. Also I give him the remaining part of my pasture Southwest from the town Between Cherry Clarks and Ebenezer Hubbards, west to the highway, I haveing given him the other part by Deed of Gift before, also I give him my other pasture on the West Side Sd. Highway Lying Between Soloman Adkins and Cherry Clarks and abuts West on the Common, also I give him all my Long Meadow and Long Meadow Swamp which I had of my Hond. Father, and all my Bogge Meadow and Bogge Meadow Swamp which I Bought of Danl. Hubbard & the Stowe, all Lying on the North Side of Ferry river, also I give to my Said Son, Jabez Hamlin Two hundred acres of Land besides what I have given him before of Great Lot at Hop Swamp all Lying on the East Side of Sd. Lot next to Danl. Starre, also I give him the half acre of neck land, I Bought of Richard Hubbard, and the Meadow I Bought of John Gilbert on this Side the ferry, also I give him all my Interest in Commonage or undivided Land in Middletown. Also I give him my negro man Robin, and the Silver Tankard and the Secretare in the Little room and the Silver hat band in the Desk in the Shop and my Seal ring and also half the young Stock now on the farm after two Heifers that are with Calf or have calved are taken out for my grandaughter Elizabeth as above mentioned, all these I give to my Son Jabez and to his heirs for Ever.

Item. My will is that my Housing, upland meadow & Swamp on the East Side of the great river be sold as soon as may be my Executor and my Daughters Esther, Mary & Sibbil be paid so much as will make to them five Hundred pounds apiece with what they have already had which will be found in the great Leger, any of my Children to have the Refusall of my said housing and Lands in the first place and what remains of the said housing and Lands after my Daughters are made up the Sum above said Shall be added to my moveable Estate out of which my will is that in the first place all my Just Debts, Funerall Charges and Legacies be paid, and my will is that the remainder of my moveable Estate together with my Bonds, Bills and notes of hand for money, book Debts and the Remainder of my Farm at Hop Swamp that is unwilled shall be equally divided between my four Children. Esther, Mary, Sibbil and Jabez, and my Grandaughter, Mary King, to have an half share with them in lieu of, or towards her Sixty Pounds as above sd.

N. B. My Sister, Mehitable Hooker is to have the Desk in the Shop that was my Fathers, it being set to her in the distribution, and lent to me to keep Papers in.

Item. I renounce to my Daughter Johnson, any former Debt that stands upon the Book against her by a reckoning made up with her about the Sloop in Partnership before She went out the last time when she was lost, which was Ten Pounds, thirteen Shillings, as may be found in the 82 page of the great Ledger, and all other Debts as may be found standing against her in sd. Book, either before or since that reckoning, She giving a general acquitance to my Executor.

And further my will is that the Revd. William Russell, our present Pastor, have five pounds paid him by my Executor, and the Church to which I belong to have five pounds more, within six months after my Decease without fail.

Item. My will is that my Seal Ring above mentioned Shall be given to my Grandson John Hamlin when he comes to be of age.

Item. I give to my Daughter Sibbil Dwight my Silver Salt celler besides what I have given her above, And to my Grandaughter, Esther Hall, I give my two handled Silver cup.

And to my Grandaughter, Mary Blague, I give my one handled Silver Cup. And to my Grandaughter Sibbill Dwight I give my Silver Porringer, and Silver Dram Cup.

Also my will is that if hereafter there appear any foreign Debts due from my Estate they shall be paid by all my Children in proportion to what I have given them, And if there appears any Estate Due to me not disposed of in this my last Will it shall be divided among my Children equally accounting all my Son John's Children one among them.

And whereas I have herein given to my son Jabez all my right in Commonage or undivided Land in Middletown my will and meaning is, That if the Commons shall be divided, my Son John's Heirs, shall have the equal half of my Interest therein, and my Son Jabez the other half. And I do hereby ordain my Son Jabez Hamlin sole Executor of this my last Will and Testament, and to take the advice of my Son Hall, and the Revd. Mr. William Russell, in all cases of difficulty, and order him to pay to Mr. Russell five Pounds more for this trouble. And I do hereby revoke and disannul all former Wills made by me, Ratifying and Confirming this and no other, to be my Last Will and Testament.

In witness to the above written, I do hereunto set my hand and seal the day and year above written.

Signed, Sealed, Published and Declared by the sd. John Hamlin as his last Will and Testament in presence of us.

JOHN HAMLIN. (L. S.)

WILL OF WILLIAM HAMLIN.

Middletown, May ye 16th, 1733.

I, William Hamlin of Middletown, in the County of Hartford and Colony of Connecticut in New England, being weak of body, but through God's goodness of a disposing mind and memory, being sensible of my mortality, and the uncertanty of this life do esteem it my duty to set my house in order before my earthly tabernacle be dissolved.

I do therefore make this my last will and testament in manner and form following:

Principally. I resign my soul unto the hand of God who gave it, and my body to the earth to a desent burial believing I shall receive it again at Christs appearing, through whose merits alone I hope to be saved, and as to that portion of worldly estate which God has graciously given me, I do will and dispose of in manner and form following:

Imprimis. I give to my son Richard Hamlin, what I have given him by deed of gift already.

Item. I give to my son Nath. Hamlin's heirs what I gave to their father by deed of gift in his life time.

Item. I give to my son Edward Hamlin, what I gave him by deed of gift already: also to run Eastward up to ye top of Stony Hill, so called, the breadth of his own land and the land I gave to Daniel and Esther Hurlburt.

Item. I give to my son Charles Hamlin my home lot with the buildings and fences upon it, and also my pastures lying between Capt. Hall's and Jabez Hamlin's land. Also I give to my said son Charles all my —— meadows and long meadow and swamp, also I give him my little meadow by the bridge on this side the ferry river, also my boggy meadow called Sanfer's Point. Also I give him all the rest of my estate not disposed of in my last will and testament, obliging him to pay all my just debts, funeral charges and legacies.

Item. I give to my daughter Susannah what household stuff and land I have given her, and also equal half of my pasture in the Northard part of the town plat, also I give her my dun mare.

Item. I give to my daughter Esther what household stuff and land I have given her, and also equal half of my pasture in the Northard part of the town plat.

Item. I give to my grandson Timothy Cornwell all my interest in the land on the East side of the great river, but if he should die before he comes to inherit, my will is that his sister, Rebecca Cornwell shall have it, and if she should also die before she comes to be of age, then the interest to return to my heirs.

Item. I give to each of my grandsons a ten pound right of my right of the interest in the common and undivided land in Middletown.

* Note 7. For COLLINS, see Note 4. page 25.

Item. I give to my respected friend the Rev. Mr. William Russell and Jabez Hamlin, to each of them five pounds money to be paid by my executor and desire them to be overseers and to assist my executor in the performance of this my last will and testament.

N. B. It is to be understood and my will and meaning is that my household stuff above mentioned shall be equally divided between my two daughters; Susannah being first made up the sum out of it that I laid out to buy household stuff for Esther.

Also. I do hereby appoint my son Charles Hamlin, sole Exr. to this my last will and testament, revoking all former wills, ratifying and confirming this and no other to be my last will and testament.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand & seal the day and year first above written.

Signed, sealed, published and declared by the said William Hamlin as his last will and testament.

WILLIAM HAMLIN, (L. S.)

ford, Conn. and dau. of Rev. Roger and Mary (Hooker*) Newton, b. Milford, July 14, 1716; who d, Middletown, May 9, 1803.

Lawyer; Magistrate; Soldier; res. Middletown.

He graduated at Yale college, 1728, and became more extensively known and employed in public offices than either his father or grandfather had been. Being of mild disposition and affable deportment he became greatly esteemed and respected. His public services will be more particularly noticed. During the Revolution he was a member of the Council of Safety; and was found in that important body of patriots a useful and safe adviser in that eventful struggle for liberty.

The Conn. Colonial records are replete with mention of his services, from which extracts are taken:

October, 1728: "This Assembly do establish and confirm Mr. Jabez Hamlin of Middletown, to be Ensign of the town company or trainband in the town of Middletown aforesaid, and order that he be commissioned aforesaid."

October, 1730; "Jabez Hamlin and others were granted by the General Assembly a right of Fishery at Middletown for ten years."

May, 1733; "This assembly do appoint * * * Mr. Jabez Hamlin, * * * to be Justice of the Peace in and for the county of Hartford for the year ensuing."

May, 1734; Jabez Hamlin, and others appointed committee to take charge &c. of the lands of the school in Middletown.

May 1735; Jabez Hamlin, and others appointed a committee to locate a sight for a Meeting House of the North Society in Middletown.

May, 1737; Mr. Jabez Hamlin and others appointed to audit the Colony's accounts with the treasurer.

He received like appointments at the sessions of the General Assembly in 1739, 1741, 1743, 1752, 1753, 1761, and 1767.

October, 1739; "This Assembly do appoint Jabez Hamlin, Esq^{r}. to be Major of the Sixth Regiment of this Colony and order that he be commissioned accordingly."

He was chosen Deacon, Feb. 7, 1753.

At a meeting of the First Church of Christ, in Middletown, on Thursday, March 4, 1784, being in close of the Church Lecture, and warned the Lord's day before with special purpose to choose a Deacon in the room of Deacon Jonathan Allen, deceased; The following letter was addressed and communicated to the meeting, viz:

To the Rev^d Enoch Huntington. Pastor, and the Brethren of the First Church of Christ of Middletown:

The representation of the subscriber shows that for a considerable time past he has officiated as one of the Deacons of s^d church; He would now take this opportunity to return his grateful acknowledgement for the Honor conferred upon him by that appointment, and the Confidence they have placed in him; And now in an advanced stage of life, and under difficulty, by reason of lameness, to do the duty of s^d office, would humbly ask a dismission from s^d office; and that some other person might be appointed in his stead that can better perform the duties thereof.

Wishing you Grace, Mercy and Peace, I subscribe, Yours in the Fellowship of the Gospel. Middletown, March 3, Anno Dom, 1784.

JABEZ HAMLIN.

After proper consideration, the following answer was returned, viz:

The Honorable Jabez Hamlin, Esq., the senior Deacon of the Church representing that for a considerable time past he has officiated as one of the Deacons of s^d Church, and now in an advanced stage of life and under difficulty by reason of lameness, to do the duty of s^d office, asking a dismission from s^d office, and that some other person may be appointed in his stead.

The Pastor and Brethren unanimously return him their sincere and hearty Thanks for his long and faithful services among them; and relying upon his good disposition to assist them in future, with his best advice and counsel, and wishing him much of the divine presence, and the Comforts of religion through the remainder of life, think it their duty (upon his application and desire,) to release him from all the laborious duties of the Deacon's office, and proceed to the choice of another actively to supply that department. Voted unanimously.

The following communication was addressed by him to the City Council of Middletown:

To the Aldermen, Common Counsellmen & Citizens of Middletown to be convened in city meeting on the 3rd Monday of January, inst:

Permit me at this time to return you my most Sincere and Grateful acknowledgement for the Honour Conferred upon me & the Confidence placed in me in the Choice of a Mayor of this City. It has greatly Exercised my mind that by Lameness and Indisposition of Body I have been prevented attending the Duties of my office and answering your Expectation from me. But so it hath pleased God and the Prospect of my Ever being able to attend the Duties of the office is small, very small. I therefore resign my Said Office and Desire you to make Choice of Some Person Beter able to Serve you than I am, & wishing Happiness & Prosperity to the City, I Subscribe your most Obed't and Humble Serv't, Middletown, Jany. 15th, 1788. JABEZ HAMLIN.

Action as follows was taken thereon:

"An address from the Hon'ble Jabez Hamlin signifying his desire to resign the office of Mayor of this City having been read,—

Voted, That the thanks of this City be returned to the Hon'ble Jabez Hamlin for the ability & impartial integrity which he has ever displayed while in the execution of the office of Mayor of this City: and that while his address evinces his delicate sense of honor & integrity, which becomes a person in public office, the Citizens are unwilling to be deprived of the Honor which he does them by holding the highest office which they can confer. Therefore:

Voted, That the Hon'ble Jabez Hamlin be requested to continue in the Office of Mayor of this City & that Asher Miller, Jonathan Otis, Matthew Tallcott esquires be a Com'ttee to wait upon him with this vote & solicit his compliance with the preceding request,"

The Rev. Enoch Huntington, delivered a discourse on the death of Col. Hamlin, which was printed. The following, from the Middletown Gazette, of May 7, 1791, is probably the same:

MIDDLETOWN, April 27, 1791.

On Monday the 25th inst. died here in the eighty second year of his age, and this day buried, the Honorable Jabez Hamblin, Esq. He was the youngest son of the Honorable John Hamblin formerly of this place, and like his father, eminently possessed the public friendship and confidence. His education was liberal, and charity, prudence, and integrity directed his life. In his friendships he was sincere, affectionate, respectable; the delight and ornament of his connections. He was strictly religious, established and constant in his own Christian profession, yet of a liberal and catholic spirit, and preserved a singular equinamity amidst the vicisutudes of life. Severely tried by the loss of his only surviving son, the expected support of his declining years, and the apperent heir of his virtues, who died in the service of his country, he met and sustained the shock with a resignation and fortitude which did honor to the man and the Christian. The friend of the poor and the afflicted, free from strife, condescending and discreet, he was revered as a father of the unfortunate, and blessed as being indeed a peacemaker. His good will to all men, his attention to public interest, and his fidelity to every trust, rendered his name precious. Having been employed in public life from his very youth, he passed through various public offices, and was for many years one of the assistants of the colony and state. Superior to intrigue or the spirit of party, his honors were unsolicited. The duties of his station, he viewed as a trust to be performed according to his own best judgment, and too sacred to be surrendered to the opinion of others. Accordingly at a time when the public mind was strongly agitated, he chose rather to make the sacrifice of his popularity. To his additional honor, the general confidence in his character soon recalled him to the public councils. In judgment he was candid, deliberate, mature, impartial. In the person of the offender; he respected the quality of man. Compassionate to misfortune, and penitence, and a stranger to the officiousness and pride of power, he was dignified and determined in supporting the authority of justice. At his death he was Mayor of this city. From a full conviction that the infirmities of age advised him to bid adieu to all public employments, he had requested the citizens to accept his resignation, but at their repeated solicitations he continued this, his only remaining office. His succesive resignations of his other offices, declared his sense of personal honor and public duty as well as that discretion and judgement which marks his more active years. Thus retiring to private live, he never appeared to repine at the want of public station, and in his advanced age was attended by that dignity of character which is the effect and ornament of talents and virtue. Calm, serene, resigned and venerable; he retained the distinguishing features of his character to the day of his death.

Sweet peace and heavenly hope and humble joy,
Divinely beam on his exalted soul;
Destruction gild and crown him for the skies
With incommunicable luster bright.

Extract from the History of Middletown: The excellence of Giles Hamlin may have contributed to bring forward his son, John Hamlin; but the son could not have received and retained the confidence of the people in those times, had he not been a superior man; and the excellence of John Hamlin, combined with that of his father, may have had more influence in bringing forward Jabez Hamlin; but all three were capital men.

Jabez Hamlin was publicly educated and possessed a well informed and well balanced mind, unusual sweetness and uniformity of temper, and courtliness of manner. He took an active interest in the welfare of persons of every class; exercising a benevolence through a long life which was seen and felt by all. Thus he descended to his grave, rich in the esteem of men, and beloved of his God.

WILL OF JABEZ HAMLIN.

In the Name of God, Amen, I Jabez Hamlin, of Middletown, in the County of Middlesex, and State of Connecticut, being at this present time, (through the goodness of God) of sound mind and memory, yet sensible of my frailty and mortality, do esteem in my duty to set my House in order before my Earthly tabernacle be desolved.

I do therefore make this my Last Will and Testament, in manner and form following.

Imprimis, I commend my Soul to the mercy of God who gave it, when and in what manner he shall please to call it, in hope of a free pardon of all my Sins through the merits and attonement of Christ Jesus, my only Saviour and Redeemer, in whom I desire to be found Living or Dying, in hope of eternal Life beyond the grave, and my body to the Earth in decent Christian burial; and my wordly Estate I dispose of in manner following, viz: I give, devise and bequeath to my beloved Wife, Susannah, all the Household goods, plate and other Estate which she brought with her at the time of our intermarriage, that is now in being, to have the same to her and her Heirs and assigns forever.

Item. I give, devise and bequeath to my three Daughters, viz: Sarah, the Wife of Comfort Sage, Esquire; Esther, the Widow of Mr. George Phillips, late of Middletown (Deceased); and Margeret Hamlin, and their Heirs and assigns forever, in equal parts, my whole Estate, both Real and Personal, Except as hereafter expressed, viz: It is my will and desire that my Wife and daughter Margerett have a comfortable support and maintenance out of my Estate; and for that purpose, I give, devise and bequeath to my sd. Wife the use and improvement of all my Dwelling House, and Home lot and the buildings thereon standing, with the New Pasture (so called) and liberty to cut Fire Wood for her own use, on any of my Woodland and also the use and improvement of one of my Women Servants, and so much of my Household as she shall have occasion for, during the time of her natural life, and it is my will and desire that my Daughter Margerett live with her Mother, and have in the aforesaid uses and improvements an equal right and privlege with her during her life, or so long as she shall reside in my Dwelling House.

And I give to them one years provision: And this I give to my Wife in lieu of dower, but if she shall not incline to continue in my Dwelling House, then I leave it to her and my other Executors, hereafter named, to make such reasonable agreement as to them may seem meet, nothing doubting of her justice and remembrance, that I have not received any benefit from any Estate which she has been connected with, but that I have freely given it to Her and her Heirs and assigns, and my will is that she and my Daughter Margerett, and the survivor of them, have the use and improvement of my Sleigh and Riding Chair, and one of my horses, and two of my Cows, such as they shall choose, during the natural life of my said Wife.

And further, and after the disease of my wife, or her removal from my Dwelling house, I give, devise and bequeath the said Dwelling house, Home lot, and Buildings, and New Pasture to my aforesaid Three Daughters, and their Heirs and assigns forever, in equal parts, and in consideration of what I advanced to my Daughters, Sarah and Esther at their respective Marriages, I give and bequeath to my Daughter Margerett the Sum of Fifty Pounds Lawful Money to be paid to her by my Executors, within one year after by Decease.

And I appoint my beloved Wife Susannah, and my Son in Law, Comfort Sage, Esquire, and my Daughter Esther Phillips, and the survivor or survivors of them, Executors of this my last Will and Testament.

In witness hereof I have hereto Set my Hand and Seal the Twenty-fourth day of March A. D. 1788.

JABEZ HAMLIN (L. S.)

CODICIL.

I, Jabez Hamlin, of Middletown, being through the divine goodness yet continued in life and being of Sound mind and memory, deem it proper to make the present Codicil to be annexed to and taken as part of the preceeding will, by me subscribed and dated the 24th day of March A. D. 1788, viz:

Having in such my will, devised and bequeathed to my beloved Wife, Susannah, out of my Estate, certain uses and improvements for the term of her life, and having also therein declared it to be my will, that during the life of my wife or during her residence in my Dwelling house, my Daughter Margerett, should have an equal right and priviledge with her in such uses and improvements, I hereby revoke and disannul the said gift and devise, to my Daughter Margerett, and in the stead thereof, I now direct and it is my will and desire, that during the life of my said Wife, or during her residence in my Dwelling House, and my Daughters Esther and Margerett and the survivor of them shall have right, priviledge, and title in and to the one moity of the aforesaid uses and improvements, and I likewise give to my Daughter Esther one years provision and for the prevention of all misunderstanding respecting what I may have given or advanced to either of my Daughters during my life it is hereby declared, that no such gift or advancement is to be considered or accounted as part of any bequest or desire contained in my will, and I hereby in all other respects confirm my preceeding Will.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my Hand & Seal the Twenty first day of October A. D. 1790.

Nov. 23, 1702. She was grand danghter of Rev. Thomas Hooker* He graduated at Yale Coll. 1709 and succeeded his father at Middletown, and labored there for forty-six year. June 1, 1715, William Russell being formally called by a unanimous vote of this South Society, and church therein, to the work of the ministry among them, was at their desire ordained Pastor of sd. church in the South Society of Middletown. By the Rev^nd Mr. Timothy Stevens and Mr. Thomas Buckingham, and Mr. Stephen Mix and Mr. Nathaniel Chauncy; their church messengers approving thereof. He preached the Election Sermon before the Colony Legislature, 1730. Whitfield said concerning him: "I think him an Israelite indeed; and one who "has been long mourning over the deadness of professors. Oh! that all min- "isters were like minded." He also expressed the simplicity of his host. (Mr. Russell,) and the order wherein his children attended on family worship. He was member of the Hartford South Consociation when called in 1758, to act with that of New Haven county in the "Wellford Case."

Dr. Trumbull says: "He was a gentlomen of great respectability for knowledge, experience, moderation and for pacific measures on all occasions."

He d. on the anniversary of his ordination. Both are buried in Riverside Cemetery. His table stone is next that of his father: and that of his wife next.

* NOTE 23. THOMAS HURLBUT,[1] came from across the Atlantic about 1635, and was a soldier under Lion Gardiner, who built and commanded the fort at Saybrooke, Conn. He is believed to have been a Scotchman. He was wounded by an arrow Feb. 22, 1637, in a battle under Gardiner with the Pequot Indians. After the war he was one of the early settlers of Wethersfield, and first blacksmith there. In 1888 Miss Harriet Mitchell, a descendant, was supposed to reside upon the site of his dwelling. He was clerk of the trainband 1640; deputy to the Gen. Court, grand juror, and constable 1644. He received several tracts of land from the town; and for his services in the Indian war the General Assembly voted him a grant of 120 acres of land, Oct. 12, 1671; but no attempt was made to avail himself of it, nor by his sons; it was not until 1694 that his grandson, John Hurlbut, Jr., of Middletown, petitioned and had it set off. His wife was named Sarah. He is supposed to have died about 1671-2. Ch.: Thomas, John, b. Mar. 8, 1642, Samuel, Joseph, Stephen, Cornelius.

[91] GEORGE HAMLIN,[4] (Bro. of Sarah,) b. Middletown, Ct., Feb 16, 1739.

WILL OF GEORGE HAMLIN.

In the name of God, Amen, I, George Hamlin, of Middletown, in the County of Hartford, and Colony of Connecticut, in New England, being at present of sound mind and memory, and considering the uncertainty of this frail and transitory Life, do therefore Make and Ordain this my last Will and Testament, that is to say, I recommend my Soul into the Hands of God who gave it, and my body to such decent burial as God in his Providence shall be pleased to allow it, in hopes of Eternal life through the merits and meditation of the Lord Jesus Christ.

And as touching my Wordly Estate after all my just debts are paid and discharged, I give and bequeath unto my Brethren, Christopher Hamlin and Jabez Hamlin, and unto my Sisters, Sarah Sage, Esther Arnold, and Margerett Hamlin, all the remainder of my Estate both real and personal, in equal parts to them and their Heirs forever. And I do hereby make my Hon'd Father, Jabez Hamlin, Esquire, to be Executor to this my last Will and Testament,

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my Hand and Seal this Second day of June A. D. 1760.

GEORGE HAMLIN. (L, S.)

The Colonial records show, that May, 1774, "This Assembly do Establish John Hamlin, to be Ensign of the 15th company or train band, in the 15th Regiment in this Colony." It is traditional that he served as a Lieutenant in the Revolution. His father died before he was 8 years old; and he was raised by John Stedman, of Farmington; and resided there untill his death; in White Oak district. He and his children spelled the name both Hamlin and Hamblin. In 1748, for £30 he bought 6 acres and 16 rods of land at White Oak; and located at what was thereafter called Hamlin Pond; built a large two story house there, which has since been moved, and is now in good repair; which was occupied by his descendants until 1894. In 1897 it was owned by Henry A. White, surviving husband of his great grand child. (See the next page.) His descendants reside in the vicinity. The church rocords show deaths of three of their children not named, on Oct. 29, 30, and Nov. 24, 1776. He d. White Oak, Nov. 26, 1821.

With a battalion he entered Quebec, and was captured, with the other commands of Morgan and Dearborn, and made prisoner. Exchanged 1777, and made Lt-Col., with authority to raise a regiment: and having raised part, marched to New Haven: was designated by Gen. Parsons to execute an expedition to surprise the enemy at Sag Harbor, Long Island. He embarked with 230 men, in 13 whale boats, and proceeded to Sachem's Head, Guilford, to cross the sound; re-embarked 170 men May 23, 1777, at 1 o'clock p. m., and landed within three miles of Sag Harbor at 1 o'clock at night. Having made plans to attack the enemy at five places, they proceeded with order in silence within twenty rods of them, and rushed with fixed bayonets upon the guards and their barracks and quarters: while Capt. Throop, with his command, took possession of the wharves and vessels. Twelve vessels were destroyed, with a great amount of supplies: six men killed and ninety prisoners captured. He returned to Guilford with his prisoners in 25 hours from his departure, having traveled 90 miles, without loss of a man. Congress resolved: "That Congress has a just sense of the merit of Lt-Col. Meigs, and the officers and men under his command, who distinguished their prudence, activity, enterprise and valor, in the late expedition to Long Island: and that an elegant sword be provided by the Commissary General of military stores, and presented to Lieut-Col. Meigs." He was promoted colonel 6th regiment, "Conn. Line." At some time he commanded three companies from Conn. in the "Additional" regiment, of Col. Henry Sherburn, of Rhode Island. In 1779 he commanded a regiment under Gen. Anthony Wayne, which stormed Stony Point. His family were assisted in Middletown in 1781, probably as he was then in the army. After the war he resided a few years in Middletown. In 1787-8, he went with the earliest settlers to Marietta, Ohio. Being without officers, or laws, he drew up a concise system or regulations for their government, which were adopted until the proper authorities should arrive. This code, spread upon a sheet, was attached to the trunk of a large oak, at the confluence of the Muskingum and Ohio rivers; and was frequently consulted. He was Indian agent at the Cherokee Station, 1801; and was beloved and trusted by the Indians, who called him, The White Path. He d. Cherokee Agency, Tenn., Jan. 28, 1823.

[414] HARRIS HAMLIN,[5] (Bro. of William,) b. Middletown, Ct., April, — 1766; m. 1st there, Aug. 22, 1787, Ruey Easton, b. Glastonbury, Ct, Feb. 28, 1770; who d. Salem, Pa., Dec. 4, 1833; m. 2d, Aug. 18, 1834. Catherine, dau. of Edward and Patience (Perkins) Gorman, b. Hartland, Ct., Mar. 2, 1787; who d. South Stirling, Pa., Feb. 3, 1881. He resided at Middletown, Ct.; and it appears from the Massachusetts records, that he resided at Russell, Mass., in 1798, and in 1801 at Westfield, Mass., from whence he removed to Salem, Wayne Co. Pa., 1802; then nearly a wilderness, It was a New England settlement; several old Revolutionary soldiers being among the number; and the patriotism and intellectual vigor of these people had much influence upon their descendants. It is traditional that he served in the Revolution, but no record of his service has been discovered. He first erected a log house in which he resided until 1808; and then erected the first framed dwelling in that vicinity. A livlihood was secured by hewing away the primeval forests, except what was gained by hunting deer and other game, which abounded; and from the streams swarming with fish. Mr. Joseph S. Hamlin, of Holland Patent, N. Y., who has since died: in Jan., 1896, wrote an amusing account of the courtship of the second wife of Harris Hamlin, "The following anecdote was told me by a cousin fifty years ago; who had just returned from a visit to the Hamlin relatives in Penn. I have kept it in memory by oft repetition. After the death of his first wife, and his children had settled in homes of their own: he became lonely, and was advised to marry again. He was a Methodist, and one Saturday started to attend Quarterly Meeting, some miles away, on approaching what he supposed was the place, he was told upon inquery that he was on the wrong road, and he then inquired for a certain Methodist family of his acquaintence, in the vicinity; and was directed to their home. Arriving there, the friends expressed pleasure to see him, and provided refreshments for himself and beast. After supper he inquired for a maiden sister of his host, and was informed that she had retired for the night. He expressed a desire to see her, and she was called upon her appearance, he proceeded to tell her that he was a widower, and lonely; that he knew of no one who would suit him better for a wife, and proposed marriage; retiring to enable her to talk with her friends. She soon consented to marry him; upon which he said that he disliked to have the delay on his mind over the Sabath; and if a minister could be procured, wished to be married that night. The minister was found and the two were made one." He d. Bidwell Hill, Salem, Aug. 4, 1854.

[443] DEA. JABEZ HAMLIN,[5] (Bro. of Elizabeth,) b. Middletown, Ct., Jan. 19, 1780; m. 1st, Roxbury, Ct., Charlotte Norton, b. Roxbury, Feb. 23, 1781; who d. Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, Oct. 27, 1837; m. 2d, in Ohio, Mrs. Mary Blakesley; who d. Cuyahoga Falls, Sept. 27, 1856; he married a third wife. In early life he learned the trade of a shoemaker, it being the custom of the times that every respectable young man should have a regular occupation or trade, necessary to secure a livlihood. This early training fitted him for a subsequent useful career as a business man. He removed from Middletown to Cambridge, Washington Co., N. Y., between 1802 and 1805: the division of the town settled him in Salem, afterwards Lee, N. Y., where he was a farmer. In the autumn of 1818, with his wife and nine children, accompanied by neighbors, they traveled with horse teams across the country to the Ohio river, below Pittsburg, Pa., and there built flat boats, and rafted down the river to Marietta, Ohio; where he purchased a tract of timber land at Waterford, ten miles distant; which he put in cultivation as a farm and built a log house, barn and shoe shop. In the spring of 1826, with his son, Charles, they started horseback to find the family of Caleb Wetmore, who married his sister, Mary, who went west 26 years before, and settled on Conn. lands in Ohio. Guided by this slight information, and the north star, they started on an unknown journey. When near the Western Reserve, they enquired for Mr. Wetmore; and learned of a man of that name, living at Stow, thirty miles south of Cleveland, who they found surrounded by the comforts of life, with his wife and family. The town of Cuyahoga Falls had been then recently laid out, and one house built there; he liked the place so well that he returned home, leaving his son; sold out, and returned with his family: leaving his two eldest daughters, who were married, and his son, Austin, with them. The journey was made with a double wagon, buggy, three horses and three cows, and all the household goods they possessed. After many hardships, they reached their destination. At first he bought a small house near town, in which the family lived and stored their goods; and set about establishing business. He built a dwelling, shoe store and tannery; and began the manufacture of leather, boots and shoes; going to New York for goods when necessary; and also erected four other dwellings there. The first year of his residence here, his wife and four children were at the same time stricken with typhus fever; his son Charles performed the housework, and nursed the sick; it being impossible to employ help on account of the prevailing disease. He was a benevolent Christian gentleman; too much so to accumulate a fortune. It was said that no scamp ever run away from the town, who did not owe Dea. Hamlin for a pair of boots. He continued business: assisted by his son, William, until near his death. He was deacon in the Presbyterian church, of which his wives were members: and his house was the home of itinerant ministers and strangers, who needed lodging while passing through the country. He was a kind husband and father and did much to properly rear and educate his children: and assist them to trades and professions. Much of the information for this sketch was kindly furnished by his dauther, Mary, a short time before her sudden death; who wrote that she never knew her father to use intoxicating liquor or tobacco. Mr. Luther L. Hamlin, a grandson at Des Moines, Iowa, has the cane of his grandfather; bearing the date of his birth and death: and his Commentary Bible, in three Vols., dated 1837. The children of this family were remarkable for longevity. He d. Cuyahoga Falls, May 28, 1858.

He grad. Williams Coll., 1821; physician; Williamstown; Whig and Republican; representative; state senator, 1857; trustee of Williams Coll.; deacon Cong. church. Dr. Sabin stood first rank in his profession; was widely known and deservedly popular as a physician; a genial, kindly man, trusted friend and companion; into every home he carried sunshine and confidence; an added charm, not found in the books of his profession, which was freely mixed with his remedies. The delightful simplicity and cordial welcome of his beautiful home is remembered by the students of Williams Coll., of which he was a trustee for many years. More than these, he was a christian and a patriot; saw and recognized the obligations and duties owed to state, country and to the world. He was a member of the first anti-slavery organization in Berkshire county; bravely faced the sneers and scorn of that period; and courageously worked and hoped for liberty; supported such men as Charles Sumner, Horace Mann, Judge Allen, and Anson P. Burlingame. He was conspicuous, able, faithful and true as steel; followed his convictions and worked fifty years for education, religion, temperance and freedom. Life in Northern Berkshire is nobler and sweeter for him having lived in it. He d. Williamstown, Feb. 24, 1884.

JOSEPH BENJAMIN, youngest son of John, moved to Pomfret, Ct.

and whether as the wife of the noted lawyer, the member of Congress, the cabinet minister, or the governor of a sovereign state, all of which positions he filled with honor, she was socially a leader, but at the same time so truly the lady, and so thoroughly the exponent of a kindly dignity that she made friends of all with whom she came in contact. Of such a woman there is nothing to be said as regards her christian life; her every look, her every action testified to the purity of her character and her inherent goodness showed itself in even the smallest details of her life. It is seldom that an eulogist is compelled to cease his remarks because of the pre-eminence of his subject, but an instance is here found where the three highest attributes of humanity were united in one person. she was good, she was true, she was beautiful. A neice, Mrs. Adriance, calls her a very beautiful, charming woman, and adds that she passed three delightful winters with Gov. and Mrs. McClelland in Washington, when he was secretary of the Interior. [632] HON. GURDON SALTONSTALL HUBBARD,[6] (Abigail Sage,[5] Sarah Hamlin,[4] Jabez,[3] John,[2], Giles,[1]) b. Windsor, Vt., Aug. 22, 1802; m. 1st, Danville, Ill., Eleanor C., dau. of Judge Elisha C. and —— (Goddard) Berry, of Urbana, Ohio, who d. Chicago, Ill., Feb. 27, 1838; m. 2d, Chicago, 1843, his cousin, Mary Ann, dau. of Ahira and Serena (Tucker) Hubbard, b. 1814. In 1812 he went to Bridgewater, Mass. to attend school; in 1815 the family removed to Montreal, Canada; and he was a clerk in the store of John Frothingham; in the spring of 1818, he was indentured for five years to the American Fire Company, under William W. Matthews; and left Montreal in company with 133 employes, on May 13, 1818; and arrived at Fort Dearborn, (Chicago) about Nov. 1, 1818; making the trip as is supposed by the old water ways in boats. Here he stayed three days with John Kinzie, at the north side residence; and was detailed to the trading post at the mouth of the Bureau river; and became part of the Illinois brigade, in charge of Antoine Des Chantes, an old Indian trader. The party went up the south branch to Bridgeport, through Mud Lake, and over the portage into the Des Plaines river, carrying their packs, and dragging their batteaux; they launched their craft and floated down the Illinois river to the mouth of the Bureau, where he was assigned to duty. In a letter, he said: "I was in Peoria in 1818. As we rounded the point of the lake above Peoria we noticed that old Fort Clark was on fire—just blazing up. Reaching it, we found about 200 Indians congregated, enjoying a war dance, painted hideously, with scalps on their spears and in their sashes, which they had taken from the heads in the war with Great Britain, from 1812 to 1815. They were dancing, rehearsing their deeds of bravery, etc. These were the only people then there, or in that vicinity. A warrior, noticing me, (then a boy of 16,) asked Mr. Des Chantes who I was. He replied, that I was his adopted son, just from Montreal; but this was not credited. The Indian said I was a young American, and seemed disposed to quarrel with me. The Indian remained in the bow of the boat, talking to me through this man, who interpreted, saying among other things, that I was an American, and taking from his sash, scalp after scalp, saying they were my nations. He saw that I was frightened, I was never more so in my life—fairly trembling with fear. His last effort to insult me, was taking a long haired scalp * * made it very wet * * and then shaking it so it sprinkled me in the face. In a moment all fear left me, and I seized Mr. Des Chantes' double-barrelled gun, took good aim and fired. The man * * just as I pulled the trigger, struck up the gun and thereby saved the life of the Indian, and perhaps mine also. Des Chantes and all our men came running to their boats. After a short consultation among the old traders, Des Chantes ordered the boats to push out and we descended the stream three or four miles, and camped on the opposite side of the river. This was my first experience of hostile array with my red brethren." About this period he visited his father and brother, who had about that time received an appointment as Federal Judge in Arkansas; but died soon after. The winter was spent trading with the Indians, and in the spring of 1819, paddled the batteaux, laden with furs, all the weary way up to Lake Michigan and on to Mackinaw. He was with the fur store at Mackinaw under Mr. Wallace several years, spending the summers there and the winters in Illinois. After seven years' service he succeeded Mr. Des Chantes. Dating from this period until the time of his death, he was largely identified with the history of Chicago. Here was his headquarters for interior, for importations and shipments; eastern goods came west, and western products, beginning with furs, and ending with flour, went east, through his Chicago establishment; everybody knew him, and he knew everybody in the good old simple fashioned way of the time and place. In 1827, he bought from "Big Foot," chief of the Pottawattamies, at Lake Geneva, 100 Indian ponies, which he loaded with trading goods: and went south to the Wabash river: establishing trading posts along the line. His path was long after known as the "Hubbard Trail," and for many years the only road in that locality. His inland station was at Danville, Ill; but his own time was spent on the trail; his home was in the saddle. On receiving notice of the Winnebago uprising at Fort Dearborn, in 1827; he rode down the trail for help; and at Danville, within about a day raised fifty volunteers, armed and mounted; marched to Ft. Dearborn, and remained there until it was learned that Gov. Cass had made peace with the Indians. He participated in the Black Hawk war, with a company of 150 men. By the Indians he was called Pa-pa-ma-ta-be, "The Swift Walker." He became a permanant resident of Chicago in 1834. He wrote the first insurance poiicy in Chicago; established the first packing house: helped to organize the first Episcopal church; inaugerated the first packet line between Chicago and Buffalo; built the Lake House, the first large hotel: was one of the first trustees of the "Town of Chicago," Feb. 11, 1835; director in the Chicago Water Works; helped to organize the Chicago Board of Trade; Director of Banks; and member of Legislature. His name was synonomous with charity, patriotism, integrity and morality; Episcopalians. He d. Chicago, Sept. 14, 1886: his widow survived him and resided there, 1899.

* NOTE 85. For HUNTINGTON, see Note 51.

"Alfred L. Castleman was widely and favorably known to the territory of Wis. * * * In 1847 he was elected to the Constitutional Conv. in which he served on the committee on Banks, Banking and Incorporations; and otherwise took an important part in the proceedings. After state organization he served for many years as regent of the State University; during which he was elected to a professorship, which however, he declined. * * * He was a gentleman of distinguished abilities, highly cultivated, chivalrous, honorable and of high and noble purposes. The duties of his profession ever kept him from a public career, which he would have graced and enobled. In his death Wisconsin lost one of its best and most loved citizens." He was surgeon, 5th Wis. Inf. Vols., appointed July 1861, and served in the Army of Patomac; having charge of a Division Hospital. He was member of a commission appointed by the Surgeon General to see that no unnecessary amputations were performed in the army hospitals, and to assist in difficult opperations; resigned, Dec. 24, 1862, on account of disease contracted in the service, from which he never fully recovered. [785] CURTIS GILBERT,[6] (Bro. of Mary,) b. Newfield, Middletown, Ct., June 8, 1795; m. 1st, Terre Haute, Ind., Sept. 15, 1819, Catherine, dau. of Gen. Peter Benton, and Mary (Peterson) Allen,* b. Ontario Co. N. Y. Mar. 27, 1801; who d. Terre Haute, Feb. 6, 1821; m. 2d, Terre Haute, Nov. 26, 1834, Mary Ann Caroline, dau. of John Addison and Caroline (Rose) King, b. Canandaigua, N. Y. Nov. 7, 1812; who d Oct. 20, 1858. He was educated in the schools and the Academy of his native place; went west in the fall of 1813; taught school one winter in Ohio; visited Louisville, Ky., and New Orleans, La., and returned to Louisville fall of 1814; afterwards went to Vincennes, Ind., and formed a trading partnership with a Mr Brooks. He took a stock of goods up the Wabash river, passing the present site of Terre Haute, on Christmas day, 1815. He located at Ft. Harrison, three miles north of Terre Haute; traded there and up the river until 1816; and was the first post master there. Terre Haute was located on wild land; there were no habitations in its present limits until the first sale of lots, by the Terre Haute Company, Oct. 1816; when Mr. Gilbert bought the first choice lot and built the first frame house erected in the county, and the first structure in the town. On building the National Road, in the twenties, a contract was let by the government for a causeway, in places ten feet high, and over a mile long, with a bridge costing over $ 50, 000, which was deemed necessary to cross a swamp east of and up to the town. The swamp rendered the town so unhealthy that it was fast becoming depopulated by deaths and removals. Mr. Gilbert saw that the swamp could be drained, but was met with opposition from contractors on the road and merchants interested in supplying them. Almost alone, he secured the passage, by the state legislature, of a law authorizing the drainage of the swamp; helped make the survey and had it drained before the road and bridge were completed. Only flood surface water ever passed under the bridge, which has long since disappeared, and the causeway was cut down at great expense; so that a large part of the city of Terre Haute is now on what was then a morass, teeming with miasma, rendering the place little more habitable To Curtis Gilbert belongs the credit that the city of Terre Haute now exists. When Vigo county was organized, 1818, he was elected the first clerk, auditor and recorder, serving three terms of seven years each. When Terre Haute was incorporated, 1832, he became one of the trustees, and Prest. of the Board, equivalent to mayor, though the title of mayor was not given until it became a city. When the Bank of the State of Indiana was chartered he became one of the directors, and was Prest. of the branch at Terre Haute; continued in its management during its existence; wound it up when the charter expired, 1857; and was director in the Terre Haute branch of its successor, the State Bank of Indiana; and of the National Bank, into which it merged. He was a Whig, but opposed inter-

He was not only well known in Charlestown, but extensively through his business relations through Sullivan and Cheshire Counties. He was one of the selectmen in Charlestown, 1838, '39, '40, and '41; and the representative of the town in the Legislature 1841-2. He was chosen one of the directors of the old "Connecticut River State Bank," and held the same office in the "Connecticut River National Bank," up to the time of his decease. He was also one of the directors at the "Cheshire Mutual Fire Insurance Company," He met with an accident about 17 years ago by being thrown from a carriage which resulted in a spinal affliction, from which he suffered so much that for several years previous to his decease he was able to give but little attention to public affairs. During the last three years of his life, he was in almost a helpless condition, and was wheeled in a chair, though he occasionally rode to the village to attend business. His wife survived him.

[845] HARRIS HAMLIN,[6] (Bro. of Sarah,) b. Westfield, Mass., July 24, 1801; removed with his parents to Salem, Pa., about 1802; m. June 20, 1833, Margaret Ann, dau. of Jacob and Barbara Long; b. Phila., Pa., Aug. 1807; farmer: Salem. He was innured to the hardships of pioneer life, as well as to its pleasures. Educational advantages in his boyhood were limited; the Curriculum consisting of a scanty knowledge of the "Three R's." The nearest grist mill was then at "Slocum's Hollow," now Scranton, Pa., and when ten years old he often went to this mill with a bag of corn on horseback fifteen miles distant. He was a man of sterling honesty, and in later years member of the Methodist church; his life was quiet and uneventful; he was energetic and industrious, but his efforts were mostly expended in wringing a subsistence for his family from the rugged soil. Both d. Salem; he Nov.-1882; she Sept. 20, 1892.

J. and settled in Deybury township, Pa. 1816. Mr. Hamlin worked on his father's farm until 16 yrs. old, attending district school in winter; but in consequence of ill health was unable to avail himself even of these meagre opportunities for education; this was partially met by study at home. Upon arriving at manhood he possessed a good knowledge of the elementary branches of education, and commenced business as a clerk in the store of his brother Oliver, at Salem; remaining there until 1822, when he went to Bethany, Pa., then county seat of Wayne Co.; and engaged with his brother-in-law, Daniel Baldwin, to learn the hatter's trade. Three years later he bought the business for himself, and soon married. Merchant; Bethany 1840–52; afterwards engaged in agricultural pursuits. He was a useful and honored citizen. For fifty years scarcely an improvement in society in his vicinity was inaugerated with which he was not in active sympathy, if not its originator. His life and name like a golden thread, gleams through the records of the temperance organizations of the county; and is linked with every step in advance, taken by the church of which he was a communicant; and in whose board he was senior warden at his death. The records of a meeting held in Honesdale, Feb. 1834, to start a bank there, shows that he was on the committee to draft resolutions to the Legislature for a bank charter. The Honesdale Bank, as the result of that movement, was incorporated 1836; he was one of its first board of directors, a position held until his death. He was active in the movement to build the Jefferson branch railroad to Honesdale: and personally instrumental in disposing of a large amount of stock for its construction, among the people of the county. He was held in high esteem, and regarded as father of the Wayne Co. Agricultural Society, which he was instrumental in organizing in 1861; and was member of the Board of Directors until his death. On his retirement from presidency of the society his associates adopted resolutions expressing appreciation of his services; and presented him a gold headed cane appropriately inscribed as a token of their regards. That he was a trusted and honored member of the Democratic party, is inferred from the fact that he was repeatedly called to head its ticket in important elections; and universally led it to victory; deputy treasurer Wayne Co., 1832, treasurer 1833–4, member of the Legislature from Morgan and Wayne Counties 1838, re-elected 1839, State Senator 1751, Postmaster, Bethany 1829–38, and 1840–51. He was twice defeated as a candidate for Congress. In every station of life he commanded confidence; Episcopalian. In 1880, this aged couple celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage in the house where they began their married life. He d. Apr. 3, 1884; she Mar. 16, 1887.

[904] REV. AUSTIN NORTON HAMLIN,[6] (Bro. of Eliza,) b. Salem, N. Y., Aug. 3, 1807; m. Morgan Co., Ohio, Jan. 1, 829, Margaret, dau. of Lemen and Barbara (Adams) Fouts, b. Ohio Co., Virginia, Sept. 8, 1812. He removed, with his parents, to Waterford, Ohio, 1818; and united with the M. E. church about 1827; was licensed to exhort Feb. 10, 1839; and to preach, Feb. 29, 1840. He united with the Wesleyan Methodists, Dec. 11, 1843; ordained Sept., 1844; and soon entered the traveling connection, serving as a faithful minister twenty-two years, in Alleghany and Central Ohio conferences, at Plymouth, Leesburg, Woodsfield, Delaware and Washington; acting a portion of the time as conference evangelist. He kept a faithful record of each year's service, miles traveled, sermons preached, class meetings lead, prayer meetings attended, marriages solemnized, baptisms, salary, and persons received into the church. There were years in which he traveled nearly 5,000 miles and preached nearly 250 times. The highest salary he ever received as a Wesleyan minister was $280. The record he kept and the testimony of witnesses show that his ministry was fruitful of good; not a year passed without additions to the church through his labors, and in some years, many. He shrank from no sacrifice if a soul was to be saved, or an unpopular truth to be advanced. The zeal of God's house consumed him. As a preacher he flamed with zeal, at times tenderly eloquent, his boldness equal to any danger; a popular sin was as readily denounced as an unpopular one; he cared more to be right than to be in the majority, and was not always prudent, in the popular sense. Some called him a hobbiest, but he never rode a worthless one, or spent his ability to advance a mere pet theory; always contended for principle and fought for victory worth something to the world. As a friend he was genial and firm, his spirit free from bitterness, his handshake cordial and smile hearty; his executive ability considerable; for several years he was president of his conference, and represented it on several occasions in the general conference. In August, 1867, he closed his connection with the Wesleyans, and in June, 1868, united with the Congregationalists and continued his labors. At the age of seventeen he went to live with his sister, Harriet, and worked for her husband on a farm in Morgan Co., Ohio, and lived there until the age of majority. After his marriage he rented their farm: but removed to Cuyahoga Falls in the spring of 1830; to McConnellsville, Ohio, 1839; Leesville, 1845; Senecaville, 1847; Morrow Co., 1849: Delaware Co., 1854; and Westerville, 1868. He was an ardent Abolitionist. It was his desire that his life and active labors might end together; which was granted, his sickness was of but few days; while not painless, his death was peaceful, in the bosom of his family and friends. In accordance with his wishes his funeral was held at his residence; three of the ministers of Westerville officiating. He d. Westerville, Ohio, where he had lived many years, July 27, 1881; and where his widow d. Oct. 17, 1890.

May 10, 1849; commanded the Ewing 1852-5, on survey of coast of Cal. and Oregon; commander July 16, 1862. When the civil war began he applied for duty at the front, and commanded the Ottawa, of the ninty days' gun boats, in the south Atlantic blockading Squadron, under Admiral DuPont. He drove the fleet of Commodore Tatnall under protection of the guns of Port Royal, and in the battle which followed engaged Fort Walker at short range. He commanded the leading vessel at Ft. Clinch, Mar. 3, 1862, and the capture of St. Mary's Ga. He commanded the expedition up the St. James river, occupying Mayport, Jacksonville, Magnolia and Palatka, and Forts Steele and Finnigan; capturing on the same trip the yacht America. In May 1862, he left the squadron, and commanded the Maratanza, and commanded the expedition to Cumberland and White House to open the James river; taking part in the demonstration at Petersburg and Malvern Hill. On July 4, 1872, he captured the Confederate gunboat Teazer; and on July 16th, was ordered to command the Monitor, with which he covered the flank of the army on the James river and its rear during the withdrawal from the Peninsula. While attached to Commodore Wilke's flying squadron he captured five prizes in 1862; and chased the confederate privateer Florida on the Bahama banks. He stopped the Gladiator off Bermuda, Oct. 7, 1862; which appeared as a blockade runner, while under the convoy of the British sloop of war Desperate. Both Stevens and the English Captain cleared their decks for action; but the Gladiator was not allowed to proceed until Stevens was satisfied of its character. He commanded the Patapasco and and performed gallant service against the forts in Charlestown harbor August, 1863. His courage and gallantry gained him the soubriquet of "Fighting Tom," by which he was known throughout the north, and detested in the south. He had a severe engagement with the batteries on Sullivan's Island, and led a boat attack on Fort Sumpter; afterwards commanded the Oneida, of the west gulf squadron: but was temporarily transferred to the Winnebago, for operations before Mobile, 1864; and was conspicuous for the masterly manner in which he handled his vessel; and his dazzling personal daring. He commanded the Oneida, off the coast of Texas, 1865; was Captain July 25, 1866; Commodore, Nov. 25, 1873; Rear Admiral, Oct. 27, 1879; and as such commanded the Pacific fleet; president of the board of visitors of the Naval Academy; and retired May 27, 1881; res. Campello, now Brockton, Mass., Apr. 20, 1841, Alfred, son of Augustus and Bathsheba (Larned) Hebard, b. Windham, Ct., May 10, 1810. He graduated Yale Coll. 1832; and taught school in New Jersey, and New London, Ct. He came to Iowa, near Burlington, then Wis. territory, 1837; was commissioned by Gov. Lucas to raise a military company for the border war between Iowa and Missouri 1840. Served by appointment of Gov. Chambers on a commission to examine claims of traders against the Indians; and was present at the treaty with the Sac and Fox Indians in Iowa, 1842, Civil engineer, and first city engineer of Burlington; resided near Burlington 1841 to 1859; republican. He constructed the bridges for the U. S. on the government road between the Indian agency and Burlington. Representative from Des Moines

County in the third, fourth and sixth General Assemblies of Iowa Territory; and to the first General Assembly of the state of Iowa; and Senator in the sixteenth, seventeenth, eighteenth and nineteenth Gen. Assemblies, Iowa. He surveyed the route of the Burlington and Missouri railroad, now the C. B. & Q. R. R., under the grant of 1856. During this survey, he with others purchased land and layed out the present city of Red Oak, Iowa. During the rebellion he was employed by the government in construction of bridges and railroads in Missouri and Tenn. He settled in Red Oak 1867; and resided there until his death. For many years he was chairman of the school board; a gentleman of fine physique, high minded, unassuming, and the soul of honor, In 1896 he visited New England as was his custom. At Block Island he contracted gangrene of the foot; from which he died after a few weeks illness, at New London, Ct., Sept. 21, 1896; and is buried there. A memorial service was held the following Sunday at Red Oak, when tributes to his life and character were rendered by Rev. E. C. Moulton, Hon. N. W. Merritt and Judge Deemer. The latter said of him: "And now farewell, thou noble, generous, gentle, kindly man; strange mixture of Hawkeye and Puritan! Thy life's work is ended; thy summons has come; simplicity, kindness and the true politeness of a Christian gentleman were in thy keeping; thy life has been an inspiration, and is worthy of emulation. Men of thy generation are nearly all gone, but their influnce will abide forever. It may be truthfully said of thee: 'His life was gentle and the elements so mixed in him, that nature might stand up and say to all the world, This was a man.'"

[1169] GEN. ALFRED HOWE TERRY,[7] (Alfred,[6] Catherine Wadsworth,[5] Mehitable Russell,[4] William,[3] Mary Hamlin,[2] Giles,[1]) b. Hartford, Ct., Nov. 10, 1827. He was educated in New Haven; studied law at Yale Law School; adm. to the bar, 1848; clerk of Supreme and Superior Courts, New Haven, 1854-60. During the Crimean war he visited Europe to observe military operations; and at the outbreak of the Rebellion was well informed on military affairs. As Colonel of the 2d Conn. Infantry, known as the New Haven Regt., which he had commanded seven years, he led it to the war, Apr.,

1861; and participated in the battle of Bull Run, July, 1861, retiring in good order when the day was lost, bringing up the rear, and saved a great amount of government property. Colonel 7th Conn. Inf. Vols., Aug., 1861, and served in the expedition of Gen. T. W. Sherman; participating in the capture of Port Royal, Nov. 4, 1861; also, in the siege of Fort Pulaski, which he commanded after its capture. He was app. Brig. Gen. U. S. Vols. to date Apr. 25, 1862; and commanded a brigade at battle of Pocotaligo. In 1862-3 he served in the operations about Charlestown, S. C., and commanded a division of the 10th Army Corps; during the attack upon Morris Island he conducted a successful demonstration up Stone river, and afterwards commanded the forces on Morris Island during the sieges of Forts Sumter, Wagner and Gregg. After the fall of Wagner he commanded the Northern District, Dept. of the South. In the spring of 1864 he commanded the 1st Division, 10th Corps, Army of the James, under Gen. Butler, and was temporarily in command of the 10th Corps, from May to Aug., and assumed permanent command of the Corps in Oct.; brevetted Maj. Gen. of Vol., Aug. 20, 1864. During this campaign he was engaged at Chester Station, Drury's Bluff, Bermuda Hundred, Deep Bottom, Furrell's Mills, siege of Petersburg, New Market Heights, New Market Road and Williamsburg Road. But his great claim to distinction was not yet achieved. His military skill attracted the attention of Gen. Grant; after the failure of the first attack on Fort Fisher, he was selected to lead another expedition, with a force of 8,000 men, assisted by the navy, in which he covered himself with glory by the capture of that Confederate stronghold on Jan. 15, 1865, loosing 110 killed and 536 wounded; capturing 2,000 prisoners, 169 heavy guns and many small arms; for which he was app. Brig Gen. U. S. A. and Maj. Gen. U.S. Vols., to date from his victory. Both houses of Congress voted "thanks to Gen. Terry and the officers and men under his command for the unsurpassed gallantry and skill exhibited by them." He commanded the 10th Corps in the N. Carolina Campaign, 1865, under Gen. W. T. Sherman and participate in the capture of Willmington; for which he was brevetted Maj. Gen. U. S. A.; and in the action of Northeast creek. After the fall of Richmond he commanded the Dept. of Virginia and afterwards in succession the Dept. of Dakota and Dept. of the South and again the Dept. of Dakota, and took the field against the Indians. He was again brevetted Maj. Gen. U. S. A. March, 1885, and appointed full Major Gen. U. S. A. 1886; and commanded the Dept. of Missouri. He retired from the army, 1888. Gen. Terry was over six feet in height, light hair, blue eyes, of grave and gentle demeanor, and of true soldierly bearing; while not a West Pointer, he merited and received the esteem of his brother officers. Entering the war at the start, three years of service instructed and ripened him for the grand opportunty for fame, which came near the close of the war; and he nobly rose to it. His administrative abilities fitted him well for the duties of a department commander. He was presented a sword by the citizens of New Haven, and with a badge of the 10th Corps by his officers. He was Dept. commander, G. A. R.; and received the degree of A. M. from Yale College; he d. unm. New Haven, Dec. 16, 1890.

SUSAN ANN, m. Dr. Barrows, of Cincinnati, O.: and is dead.
ANDREW JACKSON.

hotel keeper the last four years of his life; Democrat and Know Nothing; Universalist. At the time of his death he had received appointment of postmaster. She a teacher before marriage; Spiritualist; after the death of her husband she resided at Renssalaer Falls until a short time before her death; she rendered important assistance in compiling the records of this branch of the family. She was ill a year before her death; realized her condition and selected the subject for her funeral sermon, and verses to be read on that occasion. He d. Ressalaer Falls, Feb. 21, 1859; she Ox Bow, Aug. 11, 1897.

Verses selected by her and read at her funeral.

THERE IS NO DEATH!

There is no Death! The stars go down,
To rise upon some fairer shore,
And bright in Heaven's Jewelled crown
They shine forever more.

There is no Death! The dust we tread
Shall change beneath the summer showers
To golden grain, or mellow fruit,
Or rainbow-tinted flowers.

The granite rocks disorganize,
And feed the hungry moss they bear;
The forest leaves drink daily life
From out the viewless air.

There is no Death! The leaves may fall,
And flowers may fade and pass away;
They only wait through wintry hours
The coming of the May.

There is no Death! An Angel form
Walks o'er the earth with silent tread;
He bears our best loved things away,
And then we call them dead.

He leaves our hearts all desolate,
He plucks our fairest, sweetest flowers;
Transplanted into bliss,
They now adorn immortal bowers.

The bird-like voice, whose joyous tones
Make glad these scenes of sin and strife,
Sings now an everlasting song
Around the tree of life.

Where'er he sees a smile too bright,
Or heart too pure for taint and vice,
He bears it to that world of light,
To dwell in Paradise.

Born into that undying life,
They leave us but to come again;
With joy we welcome them the same,
Except their sin and pain.

And, ever near us, though unseen,
The dear immortal spirits tread;
For all the boundless universe
Is life—There are no dead.

I GO TO LIFE.

I go to life and not to death;
From darkness to life's native sky.
I go from sickness and from pain,
To health and immortality.
Let our farewell then be tearless,
Since I bid farewell to tears;
Write this day of my departure
Festive in your coming years.

I go from poverty to wealth,
From rags to raiment angel fair,
From the pale leanness of this flesh,
To beauty such as saints shall wear.
Let our farewell then be tearless,
Since I bid farewell to tears;
Write this day of my departure,
Festive in the coming years.

I go from chains to liberty,
These fetters will be broken soon;
Forth over Eden's fragrant fields
I walk beneath a glorious noon.
Let our farewell then be tearless,
Since I bid farewell to tears;
Write this day of my departure,
Festive in the coming years.

For toil there comes the crowned rest,
Instead of burdens, eagle's wings;
And I, even I, this life long thirst
Shall quench at everlasting springs.
Let our farewell then be tearless,
Since I bid farewell to tears;
Write this day of my departure,
Festive in your coming years.

God lives! Who says that I must die?
I cannot while Jehovah liveth!
Christ lives! I cannot die but live.
He life to me forever giveth.

Let our farewell then be tearless,
Since I bid farewell to tears;
Write this day of my departure,
Festive in your coming years.

Mar. 25, 1839, a descendant by her mother from Phineas Grover, who led the forlorn hope at the storming of Stony Point. Mr. Hamlin's path in life was checkered with a succession of varied pursuits. His early life was passed on his father's farm, and in the district school: brief terms in higher schools gave all he was able to obtain of scholastic attainments; while in his teens he began teaching in the public schools, which he followed more or less several years in Penn., Minn. and Fla. He journeyed to Minn. in 1854; and was upon the site of Minneapolis; but missed the fickle smile of Dame Fortune. In 1856, in Kansas, a free state soldier, and knew old John Brown and his son. Again in Minn.; and he returned home at the request of his parents. In 1861, a Union soldier, 1st Sergt., B, 3d Penn. Reserves; in which he was commissioned 2d Lt. Nov. 19, 1861; and served in the Army of Potomac: when disabled by sickness, after the Peninsular campaign, he was honorably discharged Nov. 11, 1862. He again entered the army in 1864, became a Captain and served to the close of the war. From then until 1873 he was merchant and postmaster at Hollisterville. He went to the Gulf Coast of Florida, 1875; whither he removed his family 1878; remaining until 1889: and was postmaster at Cedar Keys, 1881-6; narrowly escaping death from desperadoes, who murdered his friends. From 1886-9 he resided at Indian Rocks, Fla. During his residence in Florida he was engaged in growing fruits, vegetables and cotton. After 1889 he resided in Philadelphia, Pa., and was clerk in the U. S. Custom House there. His grandmother was granddaughter of a German nobleman, Baron Von Eggersdorf, who emigrated to America before the Revolution and settled at Germantown, Pa. Her father was a German soldier seven years under Frederick the Great, and fought under Washington in this country; member of New Church; he d. Philadelphia, Jan. 24, 1898.

[1800] JOHN AUSTIN HAMLIN,[7] (William S.,[6] Jabez,[5] Charles,[4] [3] William,[2] Giles,[1]) b. Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, June 29, 1837; m. Cincinnati, Ohio, Aug., 1860, Miss Mary Eleanor Hart, b. Ireland, Feb. 22, 1839. Mr. Hamlin has been largely the architect of his own fortune, a self-made man, the happy product of the Puritan and the Pioneer: an honorable, active, successful business man, equal in business methods to the standard of the times. He was educated in the district school and academies, and started early in life by learning the trade of a machinist: not finding it congenial, and desiring to improve, he traveled during 1857-8 in the eastern states. In 1859-61, while residing in Cincinnati, Ohio, he discovered the world-wide medical remedy known as Hamlin's Wizzard Oil, which became a standard medicine throughout the world; and of which he is proprietor. For years he has been proprietor of the Grand Opera House, Chicago, one of the great places of amusement in this country. His home has been in Chicago since 1861; a Rep. in politics; Freemason; member Union League Club; and Washington Park Club. In 1896-7 the family spent a well-earned vacation in an extensive tour and visit through Europe and the British Islands, stopping some time in Rome, Paris and other cities. Four sons were educated at Yale Coll.; another chose the profession of music; all are successful business men in Chicago; the daughter also received a liberal education.

[1819] JABEZ HAMLIN McCONKEY,[7] (Bro. of Sarah A.,) b. Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, Feb. 16, 1839; he resided at home until 1855, and went to live with an uncle at Marietta, Ohio. In the fall of 1860, he went down the river on a trading trip as far as Louisana; and there had charge of a steamer, which was confiscated by the confederates; and he started north; he was arrested and forced to enlist in the confederate army; from which he escaped, surrendered, and was confined 13 months in Camp Chase, Ohio. His mother, writing of the affair, said: "O! those were dark days; we could not hear from him. I used to pray God that I might hear before I died, whether he died on the steamer, or had been forced into the confederate army and died in battle, or died in camp and had decent burial; but gave up all hope of seeing him again." Concerning his release, she wrote; "My home was in Oberlin, 100 miles from Camp Chase; we were to have a sanitary fair at Cleveland, at which Gen. Garfield was to speak; where I met him by appointment to ask his assistance in obtaining my son's release. Among other things on that occasion the general said; "supposing we have reverses, and need these confederate prisoners for exchange; what shall we do if we let them go?" I felt indignant, and insulted; said I, 'Gen. Garfield, if you send my boy back into the confederate army, as loyal a man as ever lived, one whose relatives, not one of them, ever lived south of Mason and Dixon's line, and compel him to take up arms against his country, you need never expect the army to succeed, for God will curse you!' He raised his hat and replied, 'I will do all I can for your son's release.' He went to see Secretary Stanton, who hesitated, and said that the prisoners who had been released, had gone back into the Confederate army, etc. Finally, the sister of Mr. McConkey went to see President Lincoln, and showed him papers from the officers of Camp Chase. He asked if she had anything further. She replied that there was nothing except a file of papers which had laid in the War Dept. over a year asking his release. The good president wrote: 'Release J. H. McConkley. ABAHAM LINCOLN.' With joy she returned to Camp Chase to find her brother a free man." He d. unmarried Monona, Iowa, Oct. 3, 1867.
